GETTING INTO TOUCH AGAIN

Some Relief in Storm Situation Which Cut Fort Wayne Off.

WIRES DOWN IN MANY DIRECTIONS

City Ice-Bound, But Cars Are Kept Moving With Some Difficulty.

Slowly but surely wire communication with outside cities, almost completely cut off by the rain, sleet and snow of Tuesday night, is being re-established and Fort Wayne is emerging from its temporary isolation.

Early today this isolation was almost complete, and nearly every telephone and telegraph line leading to the city was out of commission. Railroad trains were delayed on all roads, interurban traffic was impaired, and although no fatalities have been reported, numerous minor accidents ocurred in Fort Wayne and vicinity.

The city itself was ice-bound as a result of the freezing weather which followed the rain of yesterday evening. It was only by keeping cars operating all night that the city lines of the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company were in condition for service this morning. The sidewalks and street pavements were coated with ice, and it was extremely difficult for pedestrians to get anywhere.

Judging from incomplete reports, considerable damage has been done in the rural districts and in the open country. During the morning hours it was almost impossible to get into communication with the surrounding towns by telephone. Wires were down and dozens of telephone poles were broken and had toppled over.

A large force of men employed by the Home Telegraph and Telephone company were sent out along the lines last night and at an early hour this morning, and while repairs have been made on certain lines, so that connection can be made with a few of the surrounding cities, the work of placing the system in perfect operation will take several days. The telephone systems in Fort Wayne were unharmed in spite of the fact that wires were reported down in different parts of the city.

Telegraph Service Out.

Service on the Western Union and Postal Telegraph lines was practically cut off by the severity of the storm, and it was with great difficulty that communication was established about 9 o'clock this morning. The Western Union reports its service impaired in all parts of the middle west. Wires are down and in some places the poles have been pulled to the ground by the heavy mass of ice clinging to the wires. It is said that the rain softened the ground and allowed the guy wires to become loosened. By noon, however, the Western Union was able to communicate with most parts of the country.

Officials of the Postal company state that their Indiana service was only partially cut off. At no time was the company unable to get into communication with Indiana cities, but reports from the states east and west show that the service has been badly impaired. The Postal company had but one wire operating through to Chicago during the night and its Cleveland wire went out of commission early in the evening.

Car Service All Right.

Street car service in Fort Wayne was undamaged. The company in anticipation of what was coming, guarded against wire and track damage by op-

$2,100 WORTH OF STAMPS ARE SOLD

First Week's Parcel Post Business is Very Heavy.

IS SUCCESSFUL HERE

At the close of the first week of parcel post, announcement is made that thus far the new system is working splendidly at the local postoffice. Parcel post has proved much less complicated than officials at the office predicted, and after seven days experience in handling mail under the parcel post rules and regulations, it has been found that Fort Wayne is able to take care of all the increased business occasioned by the system which went into effect the first of the year.

During the first week, parcel post stamps to the amount of $2,100 were sold at the local postoffice.

The increased business, naturally, creates an overcrowded condition in the postoffice building, but this has not caused any delay in handling the mail, and as soon as the basement of the building is ready for the occupancy of rural carriers report that persistent inlieved to a certain extent.

Local manufacturers and business houses have now started to use the new system of sending out merchandise, and as a result the amount of mail to be handled is steadily increasing, while officials in charge of local express companies state that their business has decreased amazingly since the first of the year.

At this date, farmers have not attempted to send much parcel post matter in the way of farm products, but rural carriers report that persistent inquiry develops the fact that they are planning to patonize the new system as soon as they become more acquainted with its regulations.

URGES CONGRESS TO SUPPLY CASH

Taft in Special Message Commends Efficiency Commission.

ANOTHER ON SEALS

Washington, Jan. 8.—Congress was asked to appropriate $250,000 for continuing the investigations of the commission on economy and efficiency into the executive departments of the government today in a special message by President Taft.

In his message the president pointed out that "there is no greater service that can be rendered to the country than that of the continuation of the work of the commission until some form of organization is provided for continuously doing this kind of work under the executive branch of the government.

In another special message President Taft recommended the repeal of the act of congress which prohibited for five years the killing of fur seals on the Tribylos island, passed more than a year ago. Investigation, the president said, showed a remarkable increase in the size of the furs in one season and proved conclusively that only the female seal needed protection and that thousands of bachelor seals can be killed each year without reducing the fur supply.

The Opposition

The bill asking the legislature to grant to Indiana cities the right to vote on adoption of the Business Form of Municipal Government will come before the Indiana lawmakers during the coming session.

MURDERS WIFE KILLS HIMSELF

Ghastly Discovery is Made in W. H. Moss Home at Paris, Ill.

BABE NEAR DEATH

Paris, Ill., Jan. 8.—Discovery of the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Moss, jr., at the Moss home late yesterday indicated that Moss had murdered his wife and then committed suicide. An infant was in bed almost dead from cold and hunger. The body of Mrs. Moss was found in the yard. She had been killed by revolver bullets. The body of Moss was in a shed. Part of his head was blown off by a shot gun.

The house showed evidence of a struggle. The telephone had been torn from the wall. Empty revolver cartridges were scattered about the house and yard and articles in the house were shattered by the bullets.

Moss was a wealthy farmer. He was about ten years the senior of his wife whom he married about a year ago. Worry over business affairs is believed to have unbalanced his mind and prompted the tragedy. The crime apparently was committed early in the morning but was not discovered until a relative called at the house several hours later.

BUT 3 SURVIVE OF SHIP'S CREW

Life-Savers Brave Death to Reach Sunken Oil Tank Steamer.

ONE WASHED ASHORE

Astoria, Ore., Jan. 8.—Of the ship's company of thirty-six who sailed from San Francisco in the oil tanker Rosencranz, only three survive the loss of the steamer yesterday on the rocks off Peacock Spit. Fred Peters, a quartermaster, is the only man ashore. He was washed up on the beach last night, six miles from the wreck. He was only able to tell his name before he lapsed into unconsciousness.

Two more survivors, names unknown, are aboard the lightship at Point Columbia River bar. They were taken from the rigging of the lost ship by the life-saving crew of Point Adams, which braved death for many hours to attempt the rescue.

Unable to make their way ashore, life-savers worked their disabled boat out to the lightship, where rescuer and rescuers were safe when the last wireless message was received from the tug which put to sea last night to aid them. The lightship has no wireless operator.

Out-State Candidates for Speaker Hope to Muster Much Strength.

HOUSE MEMBERS CAUCUS TONIGHT

Friends of Marion County Man Predict He Will Win Handily.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 8.—The caucus of democratic members of the lower house will be held this evening at 6 o'clock in the Dennison hotel. Representative Spencer, of Indianapolis, will preside.

Interest centers about the race for speakership, in which there are now six candidates, Representative Wolf, of Laporte, having withdrawn.

Representative Brennaman of Brawnstown, asserted that the outstate candidates would muster fifty-four votes.

The supporters of Homer Cook, of Indianapolis, discount this estimate and claim that the Marion county candidate will have at least seventy-five or eighty votes on the first ballot.

The outstate candidates will meet this afternoon to analyze their strength.

They are still insisting that they will go before the caucus this evening with the demand that a committee be appointed to name the personalle of the house committee.

Fleming Names Johnson.

At the senate caucus last night Senator S. B. Fleming, of Fort Wayne, was permitted to name the senate postmaster. He appointed R. A. Johnson, Fort Wayne. Senator Yarling, Nettersville, and Harlan were continued as the "plunder committee" to distribute the patron-

PARCEL POST RULES.

Suggestion No. 5.

(The Sentinel will each day present a concise explanation of some of the parcel post rules and regulations.)

"If a parcel exceeds eleven pounds in weight or is greater in size than seventy-two inches in length and girth combined, it must be refused, no matter how small the excess may be in either case.

"The law prescribes that a package to be admitted to the parcel post shall not exceed seventy-two inches in combined length and girth. In measuring the length the greatest distance in a straight line between the two ends of the parcel shall be taken, while the girth is the actual measurement by a tape encircling the parcel at its thickest part."

REGULAR ARMY OFFICER HERE

Capt. Nix Inspects Ordnance Equipment of Battery B.

COVERS ENTIRE DAY

The yearly ordnance inspection of battery B was made today by Capt. R. R. Nix, of the United States ordnance department, Rock Island arsenal, Rock Island, Ill. All of the officers of the battery and many of the militiamen were present at the inspection. The guns were taken apart for examination and all defects were noted, so that they may be corrected. The sights were tested, cartridge cases primed for the inspection of firing mechanism, and twenty rounds of sub-calibre ammunition was used to test calibre tubes.

This examination started upon Capt. Nix's arrival at 7:30 o'cloc kthis morning and lasted all day. Capt. Nix instructed the officers in many valuable points on the handling of the equipment and the maneuvering of the guns. He will leave the city tonight for Indianapolis, where he will inspect the battery in that city.

WIRES CARRIED DOWN BY STORM

Conditions in the Central West Are Worst in Many Years.

ALL LINES CRIPPLED

Chicago, Jan. 8.—Telegraph wires between New York and Chicago were prostrate today as the result of the sleet and wind. Conditions were reported the worst in years. When the market opened this morning only one Chicago broker had a wire, and this one went down in half an hour.

Eighty poles went down in Toledo. The greatest damage appears to have resulted in Illinois and in Northern Indiana and Ohio.

Telegraph service between Chicago and New York was at a standstill at 6 o'clock last night. In order to get messages from the east it was necessary for the telegraph companies to use telephone wires.

Both telegram and verbal messages were flashed over the wire at the same time. Telegrams destined for Chicago from New York were relayed as far south as Atlanta, Ga., thence to Chicago over the telephone wires.

Many Accidents Result.

Numerous accidents were reported to the police from all over Chicago. An automobile owned by C. W. Shaver, 545 West Oak street, was demolished when the car skidded at Fifty-first street and

WILL COMMEND JUDGE ANDERSON

Master Painters to Approve Action in Trial of Dynamiters.

TO ASK LEGISLATION

According to officials and delegates attending the fourth annual convention of the Indiana State Association of Master House Painters and Decorators, in session here this week, a resolution will be adopted before the close of the meeting commending Judge Anderson and the federal court for the conduct of the trial of the men indicted in the "dynamiting conspiracy."

The resolution is now being framed, and will in all probability be presented on the last day of the convention. Included in its clauses will be one complimenting Judge Anderson for his fairness in dealing with the men found guilty and for his impartial decisions rendered during the famous trial just ended at Indianapolis.

Numerous members of the master painters' organization, in discussing the proposed resolution, declare that they do not consider Judge Anderson's findings such as would cast any unfavorable reflection upon organized labor in general. They are of the opinion that he dealt justly and fairly with the men indicted, and conducted the trial in a most satisfactory manner.

Want Paper Removed.

Among other resolutions to be introduced is one favoring the enactment of a law, making it compulsory for paper hangers to remove old paper before recovering the walls of any room. A committee composed of Indianapolis delegates will be appointed during the course of the convention, whose duty will be to frame a bill which will be presented to the state legislature.

In championing the proposed bill, the delegates call attention to the Penn-

STATUTE FOR BOND ISSUES

Fort Wayne Will Present Progressive Measure to Legislature.

ATTORNEY HOGAN MAKING A DRAFT

City Council to Be Asked for Assembly Hall Bond Issue.

City Attorney Harry G. Hogan is preparing at the request of Col. D. N. Foster, president of the Fort Wayne board of park commissioners, a draft of a bill that will be submitted to the next Indiana general assembly providing the initiative, referendum and recall in the matter of issuing municipal bonds.

It will provide that city councils may on petition pass ordinances authorizing bond issues in the same manner in which general ordinances are now passed with the provision that no measure voted for by a majority of the members shall become effective for thirty days after it has received the approval of the mayor following the plan of legal publication now in vogue.

Voters May Recall It.

At any time before the expiration of ten days after the approval of such a city law 25 per cent of the legal voters may present a petition recalling the action of the council and the question shall then be submitted to a vote at a general or special election which may be called by the councilmen.

If a majority of the votes are cast again it, the ordinance, of course, becomes void. While the park board says that it has no special object in view in securing this law, the old question of purchasing river front property for park purposes will probably be raised in event the general assembly gives its approval.

General in Its Character.

Any law that may grow out of this movement will be general in its character and will not deal exclusively with matters that are properly embraced in the jurisdiction of park boards.

The step is the first taken in the progressive idea of popular government and

24 VICTIMS ARE YET IN HOSPITAL

More Bodies May Be Found Beneath Wreckage at Stockwell.

INJURED DOING WELL

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 8.—Twenty-four of the thirty or more persons injured in the Big Four wreck near Stoxwell yesterday remain in local hospitals today. All of the injured are said to be doing nicely and it is believed there will be no further deaths as a result of the disaster.

The wreck has not yet been entirely cleared away, and there is a possibility that more bodies are buried in the wreckage, but it is believed the death toll will remain at one.

While the railroad company has issued no definite statement, it is generally conceded that the wreck was caused by a truck on the baggage car becoming loosened.

McCulloch Homestead to Become Church for Christian Science Congregation.

Hon. Charles McCulloch, president of the Hamilton National bank, has sold his homestead at the northwest corner of Wayne and Ewing streets to the First Church of Christ, Scientist. The deal has been pending for some time, and the consideration was $16,000.

The possession of the property will be given over May 1, and in the meantime Mr. McCulloch will build a modern home on the rear of the property, on a space reserved him in the contract. The new residence will face on Ewing street.

The present homestead will not be razed, but will be remodeled and made suitable for church occupancy. The building and property, measuring 100 feet square, changes hands through the deal just consummated.

The congregation of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, has long been in need of a suitable edifice for worship. For years it has occupied a small building at the rear of the Jewish synagogue on Harrison street. The congregation has grown in membership, however, and this building is found to be entirely too small.

The McCulloch homestead was erected twenty-seven years ago by Henry Trentman, and was purchased twenty-five years ago by Mr. McCulloch, who has resided there continuously since that time.

A Strange New Kick

"A STRANGE new kind of a kick came into our office the other day," remarked a Fort Wayne coal dealer. "If any line of business is in for complaints it is ours. In the first place, a large number of people don't know the first principle of running a furnace, and they think, of course, the coal is at fault. There are so many different kinds of furnaces and each house or store is a separate and distinct problem of heating, so, ofttimes, when we are criticised for the quality of the fuel we have difficulty inshaping things right because we have to study each individual furnace and try to show the user just what is the trouble. There are still a good many of the old natural gas furnaces in use and these are always a bother, as they were never intended for the burning of coal. But these are the common, ordinary run of kicks. The one I started to tell you about was a strange new kind.

"A man ordered ten tons of coal to be delivered to his house and put in his bin through the cellar window. When the driver reached the house with the last load and was placing the coal in the basement he observed that the bin was becoming so full that it wouldn't hold all the coal that had been ordered. He got into the bin and shoveled the coal away back into the corners and filled up every bit of space. Then he came out again and wheeled some more in from the wagon and filled the bin so full that it wouldn't hold another shovelfull. He still had about a ton on the wagon.

"There was no one at home but the girl, so he called up the man at his office and told him that the bin would hold only nine tons and asking for instructions. The man was mad in a minute.

"'You're a bum concern,' he cried 'I've been buying my coal from So-and-So for years, and they never had any trouble to get ten tons of coal into that bin!'

"The driver told him he would report the matter at the office and he did so. I called on the man at his place of business, and actually it required quite a bit of argument to prove to him that possibly he had been paying during each of all those years, for just one ton more of coal than he had been getting. How's that for a kick?"

"You're a bum concern."

WILBUR VANDINE COULD NOT WAIT

Had Only Two Days More to Serve But the Call of the Wild Lured Him.

DIDN'T HAVE A COAT

If Wilbur Vandine had just waited until Friday he could have taken leave of the county jail in regulation style and carried along his belongings as he had but two days more for a forty two days sentence to serve, but he couldn't.

He was a trusty and employed in the engine room at the county heat and light plant and early in the day he left. He didn't tell anybody about it, and didn't even take the time to get his coat. Out in the rolling mills district he begged a coat and that was about the last seen of him in Fort Wayne, as it is thought he hiked back to Bluffton, where he lives.

Vandine was sent over Nov. 19 for stealing an overcoat from Don Ventrick. It is charged that he took some others and he probably thought that he was expected to serve at the rate of forty-two days for each. Although Sheriff Gladieux's forces made a search for the escaped prisoner and got right after him they believe with the police that it is just as well that he left with an unfinished sentence. This will probably keep him away from Fort Wayne and that is the thing the officers most desire.

age. The caucus was harmonious and lasted only a few minutes.

The house caucus tonight may not be as harmonious. An effort is being made to combine the field of speakership candidates against Representative Homer Cook, Indianapolis.

To Stay in Race.

Representatives Thornton, Mitchell, Brannaman, Fitzer, Wolf and other speakership aspirants held a conference and decided to have their names presented. They assert that Cook and his friends took the liberty of stating that they had withdrawn and would receive good committee appointments. They maintain that Cook and his backers have promised committee appointments right and left in order to land the speakership.

As a counter movement they decided to ask the house caucus to change the rules and appoint a committee of one member from each congressional district to name the standing committees. Thornton said the plan is similar to the one practiced in congress and is the only one by which the people can control the committees.

Cook and his friends are opposed to the plan and they say they have more than enough votes to dominate the caucus. The impression is that Cook will win handily.

Many well known democrats have arrived for the opening of the session. National Committeeman Taggart, Lieutenant Governor-elect O'Neil, Benjamin Bosse, Evansville; Congressman-elect Lieb, Rockport; Aaron Waltz, Hartford City; Mayor Goetz and Peter Kruyer, South Bend, and others are here.

A south bound Deering street car was struck by a west bound passenger train of the Illinois Central railroad at East Seventy-first street and Stony Island avenue. The engineer of the train, which was moving slowly, was unable to see the car because of the blinding snowstorm. One side of the street car was crushed in. No one was injured.

All of the street car lines on the north, south and west sides were partially tied up during the greater part of the day. The combination of snow and sleet which fell covered the rails with ice, which made the progress of the cars slow.

SCHROEDER WILL NOT MAKE FIGHT

He Wants to Be President of City Council Next Year.

ELECTS NEXT WEEK

Louis S. C. Schroeder wants to be president of the city council next year to finish out the term of four years for which he was elected to the body, but he will not make an active fight for the place. He is proceeding on the theory that the office ought to seek the man.

Members of the council say that in their opinion there is to be no opposition to Mr. Schroeder, but as there is talk of some important committee changes next year it would not be surprising to see an effort made to elect another man in his place. The election will take place at the regular meeting next Tuesday night.

If there is any movement on foot to oust Mr. Schroder nobody will talk about it. It has been intimated that he ought to make known his committee appointments before the election, but he says he will not do this and had rather lose the place than to obtain it by methods of this kind.

Assistants Are Selected.

At the regular meeting of the board of public safety last night assistants were appointed at the various engine houses as follows:

No. 1 House—Theodore Walda, lieutenant; Henry Guth, second lieutenant.

No. 2 House—Peter Roth, lieutenant; George L. Schwartz, second lieutenant.

No. 3 House—William J. Brandt, lieutenant; Fred H. Tieman, second lieutenant.

No. 4 House—C. F. W. Walda, lieutenant; F. J. Hensel, second lieutenant.

No. 5 House—William Haiber, lieutenant; W. F. Lind, second lieutenant.

No. 6 House—W. B. Strebig, lieutenant; J. W. Meyer, second lieutenant.

No. 7 House—S. J. Boerger, lieutenant; Edward Henschen, second lieutenant.

No. 8 House—F. J. Miller, lieutenant; William F. Randt, second lieutenant.

The board also let a contract to the Robinson Fire Apparatus company, of St. Louis, for the motor ladder truck for engine house No. 2. The contract price is $5,115.

Coal Contract Let.

The contract for supplying coal for the pumping station went to the Pioneer Coal company at $1.09 cents a ton. The contract calls for 1,200 tons and as much more as the stations may require.

CARNEGIE BARS WOMAN VOTE.

His Butler Takes His Opinion on Equal Suffrage to Callers.

New York, Jan. 8.—Suffragists made a canvass of Fifth avenue yesterday in search of recruits. The women heads of the fashionable homes, however, were "not at home" for the most part to the callers.

Andrew Carnegie told Elaine Inniscourt and Therese Curley he was unalterably opposed to woman suffrage.

"Mr. Carnegie says he is absolutely opposed to women's voting," said the butler at the Carnegie mansion.

The suffragists enrolled one of the clerks in the Plaza, a bellboy in Reginald Vanderbilt's apartment house and Isaac Guggenheim's butler.

HEIRS WIN SUIT AFTER 23 YEARS

Court Finally Gives Verdict to Relatives of Ship Blast Victim

OLD CHICAGO CASE ENDS

Chicago, Jan. 8.—Twenty-three years ago a naphtha explosion on the steamer Tioga in the Chicago river at Randolph street killed twenty-eight negro stevedores. One man escaped alive.

Yesterday the United States circuit court of appeals gave the decision by which the owners of the Tioga will be forced to pay damages of $110,000 to heirs of the dead men.

But the steamboat company wound up its affairs years ago. The lawyer that defended its cause is dead. The one who started the prosecution is dead. Every direct heir of the men whose mutilated bodies could be identified is dead.

The case, Braxton vs. the Union Steamboat company, was the oldest of the pending federal cases in the Chicago district in which there had been but one appeal.

"Justice Sometimes a Bit Slow."

"Yes," continued Attorney Charles Fruthmann, winner of the long lived suit and son of the original plaintiff lawyer, Edward Furthmann, "it might be said that justice sometimes is a bit slow."

The explosion in July, 1890, was followed by a vigorous protest against the work of Chicago's oil inspector, for the Tioga had been engaged in carrying in barrels benzine, gasoline and naphtha, supposed to be transported only in tanks. The barrels had been labeled "lubricating oils," and their real identity had been concealed even from the deckhands by tossing tar rope about as an easy explanation of the odor. When the boat landed the labels were removed and the correct labels affixed.

That went well until one day a negro deck hand went below with a lantern. What happened to that particular deck hand can be guessed without exerting the imagination. Most of the other men were killed instantly. One, Robert Holaday, escaped with his life, but badly hurt. Twenty-two of the others could be identified.

Grosscup Decision in 1892.

Back in 1892 Judge Grosscup decreed the company was not liable for the $5,000 asked for each death because the company had no official knowledge that the casks contained explosives. Mr. Furthmann made a long search for employes who might prove the contrary. A shipping clerk named Quigley was found, and on his testimony a new case was based.

Mr. Furthmann died in 1905 and his son and Raymond Beach took up the case. A year ago Judge Landis approved the report of Master in Chancery Wirt Humphrey and the heirs of the heirs of the victims won. The appeal was taken and Judge Landis' decision affirmed.

The fact that the Union Steamboat company has ceased to exist does not spoil the chance of collecting the damages, for the courts compelled it to deposit a $200,000 cash bond. The damages are $110,000, in addition to which Holaday recoveres $7,500 for his injuries.

PLANS COLONIES FOR INEBRIATES

Michigan Lawmaker's Bill Provides Hospitals for Alcoholics.

DRUG VICTIMS, ALSO

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 8.—Representative Leonard introduced a bill yesterday to permit municipalities to establish hospitals and industrial colonies for the care and treatment of inebriates and "dope fiends." It provides that a board of inebriety shall be established and allows police judges to send habitual drunkards and persons addicted to the use of drugs to these colonies instead of imposing jail sentences.

James N. McBride, progressive leader of the house, introduced a bill giving traveling salesmen and students the right to vote. He also presented a bill requiring all corporations and joint stock associations to pay their employes weekly and railroad corporations to pay their men twice a month. A similar bill was introduced by Representative Martz, of Detroit.

For Inspection of Hotels.

At the request of the traveling men's association of the state Representative McBride offered a bill for more rigid inspection of hotels and better sanitation in all lodging houses. The drummers want the hotel proprietors to place nine foot sheets on their beds and provide adequate fire escapes.

Aims at Liquor Interests.

A bill introduced by Representative Middleton, of Genesee, provides that saloonists shall remove all screens or obstructions from in front of their places of business so that a clear view may be had from the street of the whole interior of the building.

Another bill introduced by Middleton provides that all retail sales of intoxicating liquor in bulk shall be labeled with the name of the seller and the date of sale and kind of liquor contained.

The residence of George Sunday, 817 Nelson street, was damaged to the extent of $15 on Tuesday night by fire which started from the fireplace. The exterior wall was partly burned away. The property is owned by Mrs. Georgia Merriweather.

erating cars during the night. For a short time the Calhoun system was out of commission on account of a grounded wire, but this was easily and quickly remedied.

In spite of the fact that practically all interurban lines operating into Fort Wayne were running off schedule late last night, regular service was resumed this morning, and all cars are arriving and departing on time. It seems that the interurban lines were practically unharmed by the storm, but it is believed this was due to the fact that cars were kept in operation during the night.

Reports from local dealers in fruit and other far inproducts state that the storm resulted in no damage to fruit or other vegetation in Allen county. While the fruit trees are heavily coated with ice, the buds are not reported matured sufficiently to be harmed by the ice and sleet. It is reported from the country that the storm in no way damaged the growing wheat, as the snow of the last few days served to cover the surface of the fields.

Big Cable Snapped.

Frank Dix, superintendent of the city lighting plant, said this afternoon that he had all his wire troubles patched up and that the system is in good working order, so far as he and his men can tell. He is prepared, however, to take care of any further trouble that may be reported tonight.

Besides his two regular trouble men he put on two extras last night and they were all kept busy. The first break came in the big commercial cable on Calhoun street. This also supplies the current for the ornamental system and it snapped in a manhole between Washington and Jefferson. It was repaired in about two hours.

Nebraska consumers of city current were without lights from early in the evening until 9 o'clock, when the trouble was located and a broken wire mended. One leg line broke at the Pennsylvania tracks and shut off the southeastern portion of the city for a time and a big district in the east end of the city also suffered.

Most of the breaks were due to sleet, but the dampness reached the Calhoun street cable, which is underground, and caused it to break.

Fort Wayne Roumanian Merchant Celebrates Wedding and Christmas in One Day and Has Another Coming.

Zack Bodigan, Roumanian merchant in the Rolling mill district, was followed by a hundred of his countrymen when he and his wedding party rode in four carriages to the court house Tuesday where he procured a license to marry Sophie Solomon. Justice Henry Grabner performed the ceremony in the private office of Clerk William E. Gerding and Robert C. Travis was master of ceremonies.

There were in attendance a number of young women connected with the various abstract companies and the wedding drew all of the second floor employes to the office. Efforts on the part of The Sentinel to inject a little old-country romance into the affair failed sadly.

The bride is nineteen years old and has been in the United States but six months and she did not meet the man who is her husband until after she arrived so that all of their love-making was done on this side of the water.

The little girl shown in the photograph is a niece to the groom and the others were attendants at the wedding which was rather more pretentious than the ordinary Roumanian marriage in this country. The wedding drew a great many curious people to the corridors of the court house and the party seemed rather to like the attention the members received.

Tuesday was Christmas for the Roumanians and as many of them as could be spared from their work celebrated the day and this wedding was a double celebration. It was also Christmas for the Greeks, Macedonians and Bulgarians.

The real wedding feast will be held Sunday when a ball will be held in a hall on Greater street and Roumanian dances and the customs of the old country will be followed out.

This May Be Your Case!

Mr. L. found that he could neither read nor clearly see objects in the distance. He decided that he must have two pairs of glasses. Our thoroughly accurate examination showed that he needed Kryptok Lenses (two pairs of glasses in one) and we supplied them. It ended his troubles and the glasses did not have those age indicating, conspicuous lines often seen in bifocal glasses.

You need Shur-ons if you need glasses.

No Charge for Examination.

THE DEAD FISH IN THE ST. MARY'S RIVER

Decatur Indignantly Denies That Its Sugar Factory Pollutes Stream's Waters.

Decatur, Ind., Jan. 8.—Some one in Fort Wayne discovered some dead fish in the St. Mary's river in that city and at once circulated a report that the fish were killed by pollution of the water caused by the sugar factory in Decatur. The Fort Wayne newspapers a few days ago gave space to this theory and investigation here has proven the theory entirely wrong.

In the first place sugar factories have practically no waste to throw into the river. Economy and efficiency in management have taught the fact that by-products can be manufactured from what was formerly waste material. Therefore the sugar factory throws but little material into the St. Mary's river.

The chief "waste" from the sugar factory is water. The water is used for washing the beets and it contains no impurities that tend to pollute the stream. From the condensers some water comes that gets back to the wash tanks and it, too, goes into the river. Besides, this water, used chiefly for washing beets and containing no more chemicals than the river water contains in its natural state, there is no other waste dumped into the St. Mary's river by the sugar factory.

The lime and sulphur used in the chemical process of making sugar is all extracted and saved after it has done its purpose in the sugar making process. The lime is kept closely confined and converted into fertilizer. All other wastes from the sugar making are in turn converted into a by-produce and there is not enough material gets into the river to kill one fish.

If there are tons of dead fish in the St. Mary's river, as was stated in the Fort Wayne papers, the investigation will have to go further than to the sugar factory to find the cause.

BELIEVED TO BE DEAD.

Men Who Left Their Homes for the Far West Thirty-three Years Ago.

Portland, Ind., Jan. 8.—Mrs. Eva Taylor, of Balbec, has instituted proceedings in the circuit court seeking to have the estate of Alonzo and Edward Miller adjudged subject to administration, alleging that the property is suffering waste and damage for want of proper care. The two defendants were former residents of Penn township, and have not been heard from since January, 1880—thirty-three years ago. At that time they left Jay county, starting for the far west. They left behind their interests in certain property rights and never appeared to look after it. Mrs. Taylor is a niece of the missing men, who it is supposed have died or perhaps were killed soon after arriving at their intended destination.

Dr. Gaylord M. Leslie has been confined to his home at Brookside on account of illness.

THIS IS AN HONEST ADVERTISEMENT

It Tells a Little Story About a Prescription That Really Cures Indigestion.

A man of long experience in the advertising business said to the writer of this advertisement on November 22, 1912—

"I can't for the life of me see how your Company can make any money on MI-ON-A Stomach Tablets. They are too good. They cure too quickly. You can't sell enough of them to any one person."

Continuing, he said—

"My wife was cured of severe stomach trouble two years ago by taking only one-half a box and has never been bothered a particle since until about two weeks ago when she had another attack.

"Two days treatment with MI-O-NA and she was as well as ever again. MI-O-NA is fine for the people who take it, but as I said before, how can you make any money?"—Name on application.

Indigestion is a national disease; many millions of Americans have it. MI-O-NA makes money for its owners by curing tens of thousands every year; many thousands of whom have tired of forever buying relievers that do no good unless taken continuously.

MI-O-NA Stomach Tablets are compounded from a stomach specialist's favorite prescription. Daily they are banishing terrible stomach agony in the palaces of the rich and in the humble cottages of the poor.

The price, 50 cents, at your druggist for a generous boxful is surely a modest one to pay for certain stomach comfort with a guarantee of money back if they fail to cure.

MI-O-NA makers send free trial samples on request, or if not convenient for you to buy of your druggist will mail a box charges prepaid on receipt of 50 cents. Address Booth's MI-O-NA, Dept. B-2, Buffalo, N. Y.

CITY MUST PAY FOR PRISONER'S BOARD

Adams County Council Refuses to Bear Expense of Keeping City Prisoners.

Decatur, Ind. Jan 8.—The county council at its meeting yesterday afternoon took definite action on the matter of the county paying the expense of keeping city prisoners in the county jail and unanimously set its foot down on the custom. "Hereafter the city of Decatur will have to pay the expense of keeping these prisoners in the county jail" is the way the council expressed itself. Sheriff Durkin had asked for an appropriation to meet the expense of caring for the city's prisoners and the council refused to make the appropriation.

This makes it imperative that the city of Decatur take immediate action to care for its prisoners when they are arrested, as Sheriff Durkin will have to refuse them admittance to the county jail until the city puts up the money to pay the expense of their keeping. The towns of Berne and Geneva each have their own city jails and care for their own prisoners, and the council cites this as the chief reason why Decatur should do likewise.

When informed of the action of the county council Mayor Teeple said: "We think that is the law and at the next meeting of the city council the matter will be brought before that body. It will then be decided whether we continue to put the prisoners in the county jail and pay the county for their keeping or whether the city will build its own jail."

The club will meet in two weeks with Miss Jessie Harvey.

Rundell, of Fort Wayne, and Mrs. Lewis Finan, of Chicago.

He was 38 years of age and leaves a wife and four small children. He formerly lived at this place for a short time and for a number of years had been employed as operator for the Pennsylvania at this place and Dixon. He was a man of splendid character and his many friends will be grieved to learn of his death.

PROBATION OF WILL.

Objection to Filing is Made by One of the Heirs.

Huntington, Ind., Jan. 8.—One of the first instances in many months in which objections have been filed against the probation of a will was that which Sylvester Zent, a resident of Jefferson township, filed with the county clerk Tuesday afternoon. The will was drawn up by Michael Zent a short time before his death late in December.

The deceased was a resident of Majenica and at the time of his death the only relatives mentioned were an adopted daughter, a son, Sylvester, and a brother, George, who is not a resident of this county. According to the complaint filed by Sylvester Zent the will was unduly executed. In the second place, he says, Michael Zent was not of a disposing mind and memory when the will was drawn, which should render it void. As a third reason he asserts that Mr. Zent was unduly influenced to make the will, resulting in it being unfavorable to some of the interester parties.

SENATOR POWERS SENT EGGS BY MAIL

Was First to Use Parcels Post Out of Angola—With Poetry Accompaniment.

Angola, Ind., Jan. 8.—The first package sent from this postoffice by parcels post was 1 1-3 dozen eggs. They were mailed to New York city by Senator Stephen A. Powers to his daughter. The postage was 26 cents. Weight, three and three-fourths pounds. Good eggs, sell in New York now for 70c. Senator Powers says the ones he sent were good ones.

The following poetic message accompanied the eggs:

"Houdan eggs, each packed in cork,
Sent by your dad, down to New York.
They say its a thousand miles, g!
I can not see how it can b.
Laid in nineteen hundred 12 A. D.
Reach New York nineteen hundred 13 C?

Daughter, just between you and me,
That's going quicker'n instantly!
If they reach you safely I'm resolved
High cost of living has been solved.

Don't you think your pap's a dandy
To send these eggs from Indiany?
I feel somehow I want to boast
Of Uncle Sam's new Parcels Post.

CHEMIST TESTING SOIL.

Suggests Remedy for Improvement of Land in Wells County.

Bluffton, Ind., Jan. 8.—C. L. Bohanan, chief chemist for the St. Louis-Holland Sugar company, has been making tests of the soil in Wells and Adams county, and reports that the soil in the vicinity of Tocsin and Craigville contains an abundance of humic acid. This in time will make the land sour, he says, and lime will prevent this. Common air slaked lime put on this soil will convert the acid natures of the soil to an alkali, is the statement made by Mr. Bohanan. This improvement must be taken up immediately by the farmers, according to the chemist and it will aid in raising any crop the farmers desire to put out. This condition is said to be found in the black ground as well as in the clays of the higher elevations.

COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Decatur, Ind., Jan. 8.—August Kratzka, aged 77 years, an epileptic, committed suicide yesterday at the home of Christ Burkhalter, in Wabash township, by hanging himself with a suspender. After eating his meal he went to his room and took a chew of tobacco, sat down in a chair, after fastening one end of his suspender to a hook in the closet and the other end about his neck. He then leaned forward in his chair until he was strangled.

Public Aid to County Fairs.

The Indiana County Fair Managers' association has taken steps to lobby for a change in the law at the coming session of the legislature that will make it obligatory upon county commissioners to give financial aid to county fairs to a maximum amount of one cent on each $100 of taxables in the county, the money to be used in paying premiums on all exhibits except speed contests. Ostensibly the movement is launched to encourage agriculture and to induce young men to remain on the farms of Indiana. In reality it is probably launched in the effort to bolster up some of the weak fair enterprises in Indiana, and incidentally to enable those who are carrying them forward to reap somewhat larger dividends.

We do not believe the situation justifies the increased tax rate that would be necessary in every county in order to supply premium money for the fair associations. Nor is it at all likely that the young man who is considering the advisability of leaving the farm will be influenced to remain by the fact that he will stand a chance of getting a trifle higher premium upon such live stock and farm products as he may determine to place on exhibition at the fall county fair. The fairs serve a distinct purpose, and they ought to be given encouragement, but if the people of any county do not show sufficient interest in them to maintain the shows without public aid, there is small excuse for the existence of the expositions. It is true that those who carry forward the county fairs are actuated to a large degree by public spirit, but the element of personal gain is by no means absent, and anything like a subsidy from the public treasury seems to us to be wholly unwarranted.

The recent report of Humane Officer Schlaudroff discloses that during the year 1912 nineteen husbands beat their wives in so shameless a fashion that public attention was called to the cases and prosecutions followed in seventeen instances. As a rule the services performed by this efficient officer are perhaps valued too lightly, but if Mr. Schlaudroff did nothing more than make certain that wife-beaters get their just deserts, he would amply justify his position. His efficient work along many lines apart from ordinary police procedure constitutes a most valuable service to the people of Fort Wayne.

The sooner the card and other games at which petty gambling is tolerated in saloons, pool rooms and cigar stores are uprooted, the better it will be for other young fellows who may be tempted to go wrong with their employers' money. This sort of gaming has no possible excuse on earth for its existence. It is just as much of an outlaw as is the professional gambling joint.

Every day or two President Taft solemly nominates a few Indiana republicans to postmasterships, and just as regularly his nominations are carefully tucked away in the senate pigeon holes without the confirmatory action necessary to make them effective in drawing salaries. There is going to be a tremendous stock of deferred hopes on hand when the president goes out of office on March 4.

Judge Richard K. Erwin, of this city, has just been inducted into office as a member of the Indiana supreme court, to which he was elected in November. Judge Erwin is a man of broad legal experience and high character, and he may be depended upon to grace the high judicial position to which the people of Indiana have elevated him.

A SOUND PRINCIPLE OF TRADE.

(Kansas City Star.)

Woodrow Wilson, president-elect, in his speech at Staunton, Va., a few days ago, used these words:

"The one thing that the business men o fthe United States are now discovering, some of them for themselves and some by suggestion, is that they are not going to be allowed to make any money except for a quid pro quo; that they must render a service or get nothing, and that in the regulation of business the government—that is to say, the moral judgments of the majority—must determine whether what they are doing is a service or is not a service, and that everything in business and politics is going to be reduced to this standard: 'Are you giving anything to society when you want to take something from society?'"

Some commentators have been criticising this expression because it sounds like socialism, or some other ism disliked by the class of men whose ideas have become so stratified that they are unable to comprehend the spirit of the times.

The fact is that Mr. Wilson has merely stated in new form an old and thoroughly established scientific principle of trade, namely, that all dealings among men must be mutually beneficial t be economically sound. Trade of any sort which benefits one party at the expense of another is not honest trade; it is exploitation. Trade enriches the world by an exchange of goods or services which benefit both parties. There is no other sound basis for business, because in the nature of things trade digs its own grave when it enriches one party and impoverishes the other.

Every recognized authority on political economy has set forth the principle of trade.

Woodrow Wilson's declaration is merely a statement of the same principle in a somewhat different form. There is nothing radical or revolutionary in it.

THE HANDSHAKING HABIT.

(Pittsburg Dispatch.)

Estimates that President Taft had his fingers grasped by over 7,000 persons at the New Year's reception, and Governor Wilson's personal and painful recollection of shaking hands with 4,000 the day he was inaugurated, have led to the utterance by the president-elect of a fervent wish for "some sort of reinforced steel fingers for the use of presidents." If someone would invent a glove that would take the pressure off the hand he would, Mr. Wilson is convinced, confer a great blessing on occupants of the presidential chair.

The craze to shake the hand of the famous seems so deep-rooted that it appears a hopeless effort to seek to abate it. But if these well-intended but mistaken enthusiasts who think they are delighting their victim by filing past and shaking his fingers as they go would pause long enough to ask themselves how they would like to have their hands shaken by several thousand people, they might take a different view of it. The absurdity of the thing is patent. Not one of the handshaking brigade gains anything by the performance, certainly not in the esteem of the passive victim of these digital assaults. When he returns home to boast of having shaken the hand of the president he simply reflects the familiar tale of the peasant who refused ever after to wash the hand the king had touched. Handshaking under such formal and meaningless circumstances is as silly as the savage custom of rubbing noses, and ought to be abolished.

BUILDING A HOUSE IN NEW YORK.

(New York World.)

The residence for Henry Clay Frick on Fifth avenue is estimated to cost $3,000,000, in addition to $2,400,000 paid for the land. Even these figures do not place the structure in the forefront of what may be called our palaces. The Clark residence exceeded it in cost, and those of Schwab and Carnegie and one of the Vanderbilt houses rival it. We are approaching a time when no man of moderate wealth will essay a new private residence in Manhattan.

The bureau of buildings for the borough reports that during the last year only 757 plans for new buildings were filed with the department. But the structures of 1912 were estimated to cost $116,325,135. Thus the buildings of Manhattan were designed to cost more than $153,600 each.

This explains why even millionaires are betaking themselves to apartments. Something more than the servant problem and convenience of housekeeping is at issue. Yet the essential ideals of home are kept alight in the apartment as in the private residence. And there are always the suburbs for cottage-building.

THE PRESS DISCUSSES THE BAILEY FAREWELL.

"Political Nostrums."

Washington Post: "Senator Bailey's speech is not so much of an arraignment of peculiar heresies as of the growing tendency of the country to accept political nostrums."

"Youthful Enthusiasts."

Buffalo Express: "Senator Bailey is older now than he was twenty years ago. He has gained much experience with men and affairs. Age and experience turn many youthful enthusiastsn into conservatives."

"Out of Tune."

Berkshire Eagle: "Bailey belongs to another generation of politicians—he is out of tune with his party and the spirit of the hour."

"Really Belives."

Philadelphia Inquirer: "Senator Bailey really believes that the nation is taking a backward step in letting a lot of ignorant, enthusiastic and half-baked enthusiasts take possession of the government."

CURTIS SENATE FLOOR LEADER

Absence of Friction in Democratic Caucus at Indianapolis.

COOK IS UNDISTURBED

Indianapolis, Jan. 8.—Officers of the senate for the coming session of the legislature were elected at a caucus of the democratic senators last night.

Lieut. Gov. Frank J. Hall called the meeting to order. Senator Warren N. Hauck, of Lawrenceburg, was elected caucus chairman by acclamation and at once assumed the chair. Senator Harry E. Grube of Plymouth, was named caucus secretary.

The election was marked by absence of friction. Senator George William Curtis, of Mt. Vernon, was elected president pro tempore and senate floor leader by acclamation. Wade H. Free, of Anderson, had no opposition as secretary.

Five ballots were necessary to elect George M. Raab, of Mishawaka, whose candidacy was firts announced here today, assistant secretary of senate. Other candidates were Romus F. Stuart, of Indianapolis; Edward Holler and George I. Kisner, both of Terre Haute; Smith Askren, of DePauw and James A. Sweeney, of Plymouth.

Shea Chief Doorkeeper.

Joseph D. Shea, of Indianapolis, was elected chief doorkeeper.

It is understood that Lieut. Gov.-elect W. P. O'Neill will make the committee assignments.

The caucus accepted the report of Senator Levi P. Harlan, of Indianapolis, chairman of the "plunder" committee that each senator appoint one applicant for a term of sixty days.

The following committee on appointments and expenditures for the whole session was named: Levi P. Harlan, of Indianapolis; W. A. Yarling, of Shelbyville; J. J. Netterville, of Anderson; Lieut. Gov.-elect W. P. O'Neill, of Mishawaka and George William Curtis, of Mt. Vernon.

To this committee were submitted all names and choices of places for employes of the senate. The committee was instructed to meet tomorrow to consider applications and to report to the adjourned session of the caucus Wednesday afternoon. This committee also will name the postmaster.

Cook Certain to Win.

The action of the five opponents of Homer L. Cook, of Indianapolis, candidate for speaker as to the house caucus this evening to name a committee of thirteen to co-operate with the speaker in making the committee appointments, is not taken seriously by Cook and his friends.

Although Cook's opponents were very active in interviewing legislators and pressing hoem arguments against the naming of Cook, it was generally accepted that the chances of the Marion county man for the speakership had not been seriously marred.

Cook maintained that he was certain of a large majority in the caucus and some of his friends estimated the vote he is expected to receive at eighty-five.

The attempt of the opposition was characterized by Cook as futile. He said that if the house wanted a speaker without giving him the right of naming his committees, the house might just as well not have a speaker.

As far as could be ascertained only four of five members of the house attended the conferences today in which the "outstate" candidates so-called, decided to ask the caucus for the appointment of a committee to name the house committees. The five candidates who participated are Charles E. Smith, Anderson; Emmett C. Mitchell, Salem; Norman F. Wolf, Laporte; Michael C. Thornton, New Albany, and Willard C. Fitzer, of Clymers.

Guessing on Chairmanship.

Speculation regarding the chairmanships of the house committees is rife among the members.

It is said that Willard W. Spencer, of Indianapolis, is slated for the chairmanship of the ways and means committee, and that Mark Storen, of Scottsburg, will head the judiciary committee.

Four names were mentioned for floor leader—James F. Ensle, of Evansville, George W. Sands, of South Bend; A. P. Beatley, of Decatur and Joseph M. Cravens, of Madison.

John P. Leyendecker, of this city, has been suggested as the chairman of the committee on the affairs of Indianapolis.

The report of the house "plunder" committee to the caucus tomorrow evening will recommend the appointment of fifty employes to serve a term of thirty days. Members of the house already asked by John J. Keegan, chairman of the "plunder" committee, to file the names of applicants and the positions to which they want to be appointed with the committee before Wednesday evening.

SCHOOL CREDITS FOR HOME DUTIES

Oregon Teacher Evolves a Plan to Stimulate Enthusiasm.

IT IS WORKING WELL

Washington, Jan. 8.—How teachers in Oregon bring school and home closer together by giving school credit for industrial work at home is told with compelling interest by Hon. L. R. Alderman, state superintendent of public instruction in Oregon, in a pamphlet which the United States bureau of education is sending free at the request of teachers.

Building fires; milking a cow; cleaning the barn; splitting and carrying in wood; turning cream separator; cleaning house; gathering eggs; feeding farm animals; churning butter; preparing breakfast; sweeping and scrubbing floors; dusting furniture; making beds; sewing, washing and ironing the child's own clothes; bathing; arriving at school with clean hands and face and with hair combed; practicing music lesson; going to bed by 9 o'clock every night; bathing and dressing the baby; sleeping with window boards in bedroom; these are a few of the duties for which the teacher at Spring Valley, Oregon, allows credit in connection with regular school work.

Work Definitely Measured.

The work is definitely measured and allowed for. The child desiring credit for home tasks brings to school a slip signed by the parent testifying to what has been done; 10 per cent is added to the final examination results of all pupils (except eighth grades) who enter and continue in the voluntary contest to see which can obtain the most of such contests; a certain number of accumulated credits entitles the pupil to a holiday, at the discretion of the teacher; and in this one school, at least, cash rewards are given to pupils making the best record in accredited home tasks.

The experiment was so successful in Spring Valley that it attracted the attention of the county superintendents of the state, who this year made a special trip in a body to observe the results of the home credit plan in this school, and then advocated the idea everywhere. Already schools in other localities have tried the plan with success, modifying the details in accordance with local needs, but always retaining the central principle of home and school co-operation.

Effect Unfailingly Good.

Observers of the work that is done in Oregon agree that the effect both on school and home has been unfailingly good. The children take more pride in their homes; give eager assistance in the household to their frequently overworked mothers; live cleaner, healthier lives than before; yet they by no means neglect their school work in their awakened zeal for home interests. Indeed, the evidence seems to be that the habits of industry and cleanliness thus encouraged in respect to duties in the home are not only reflected in the pride they take in sanitary school surroundings, but also in increased ability in studies, greater willingness to do the lessons, and a higher degree of accuracy in all the activities both of home and school.

The basic principle behind the work of Dr. Alderman and his associates is that education should make us more willing and efficient workers. "Every person has some home duties, chores, and the like. Under the proper encouragement and direction the boys and girls who are in school can be taught to do these things well and thoroughly. The more they do, well and cheerfully, the better for them: they will become finer and more useful men and women. The giving of school credit for home work," says Dr. Alderman, "is like opening great reservoirs of power which as yet have scarcely been tapped."

Certain it is that co-operation between home and school is one of the pressing problems of the day. Accordingly this Oregon experiment, which seeks to coordinate in the fullest sense the interests of school and life, is followed with close attention by educators everywhere.

The United States bureau of education has several thousand copies of the Oregon booklet on hand for free distribution. They may be had on request.

QUIT CHURCH TO FIGHT FIRE.

Girl Gives Alarm to Congregation at Logansport.

Logansport, Ind., Jan. 8.—Running four blocks from her home to the United Brethren church, where a service was in progress, Miss Esther Shaw, 17, rushed up the aisle of the church to the rostrum, where she turned upon the astonished congregation and cried, "Fire, everything's on fire."

The panic that followed worked a good result for, once outside the church, the congregation formed a bucket brigade and fought the fire, which was burning the home of Chester Horn and menaced the Wesley Pence property adjoining.

The houses are four squares outside the city limits and only the prompt action of the congregation so unceremoniously routed from worship, saved the Pence home. The Horn property was entirely destroyed.

DYNAMITE IN RUNAWAY.

Horse Drags Explosive About Logansport at Lively Pace.

Logansport, Ind., Jan. 8.—A runaway horse dragging a buggy in which were fifty pounds of dynamite and several explosive caps, dashed about the business district here last night until stopped by A. R. Pruitt, who hitched the horse before he learned the contents of the rig.

Isaac Green, in charge of the work of a ditch, came here to secure a supply of dynamite. There were only a few caps at the store where he secured the dynamite. He placed the explosive and some caps in the buggy and leaving the horse standing, hurried away to another store to secure more caps. Returning to get his rig he was told that the horse had bolted.

Here is a remedy that will cure your cold. Why waste time and money experimenting when you can get a preparation that has won a world-wide reputation by its cures of this disease and can always be depended upon? It is known everywhere as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and is a medicine of real merit. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

Ten Years Vanish from the Age of Matron Who Wears This—They Say!

One of the most beautiful of the mid-season's afternoon dresses suitable for the matron is here illustrated.

The under petticoat is of embroidered white chiffon, trimmed with marten fur and the long over tunic is black velvet and chiffon. This tunic is made very much like a short surplice waist and narrow skirt except that it laps over in front and is cut up at the bottom in a wide triangle to show the petticoat. The same embroidered chiffon is used in the neck and for the undersleeves. Where the dress fastens at side of the waist in front there is a beautiful cabouchon of mother of pearl and jet. A large hat of hatters plush trimmed with white plumes is worn with this costume, which is warranted to take 10 years off the age of a matron.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Uncle Tom's Cabin Today.

Kibble and Martin's scenic and dramatic production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will be seen at the Majestic this evening. Kibble and Martin's company carries all the special scenery and efforts required to give a perfect production of this old, ever popular play. The company embraces fifty people, a chorus of over twenty colored men and women, ponies and six man-eating bloodhounds. A special train of cars is employed in transporting this production. The escape of Eliza strikes our sympathy as no ordinary melodrama ever can, and the fortunes of Uncle Tom keep us alert and excited. The production which Kibble and Martin will bring to our city will be the same that has been so favorably received in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, Pittsburg and all large cities.

The Common Law.

Book plays never seem to lose prestige, at least in this city, especially when the book has been a universally read one, such as Robert W. Chambers' "The Common Law," one of the most sensational stories ever penned by a native author, and one which has created no end of discussion among the clergy as well as laymen and continues to be counted as one of the very best sellers ever placed upon the book shelves.

The dramatization of "The Common Law" comes to the Majestic 3 days starting tomorrow with a production in every way calculated to arouse the keenest possible delight from a picturesque point of view, and will be presented by a cast of altogether competent players, selected in order to bring out in the most forcible manner the dramatic episodes. The play has the strongest appeal in its portrayal of a woman struggling against the conventions—Valierie West, artist's model, and sweetheart of Lewis Neville, the artist. The model arouses sympathy in revealing the heartaches woman bares when she is in love with a man in a different strata of society.

CLEANING GAME.

To remove feathers from game of any kind dip in boiling water, then wrap in a thick cloth. The feathers are steamed loose in a very few minutes and the "pins" will give very little or no trouble.

FRUIT HARD HIT BY SUDDEN COLD

Nearly All the California Crop is Reported Killed.

A LOSS OF $40,000,000

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 8.—"From San Bernardino to Los Angeles every acre of oranges and lemons has been frozen."

This statement came last night from Pomona, center of one of the heaviest producing sections of the citrus fruit belt. Only a fifth of the crop may be salvaged, it was asserted.

If this be true the total loss on 150,000 acres of fruit will amount close to $40,000,000. More conservative estimates, however, figured the total damage at $20,000,000. Between $5,000,000 and $8,000,000 of this sum will be the loss to railroads in curtailed freight receipts.

In the face of this situation fruit growers, worn out by forty-eight hours' battle against an almost unprecedented visitation of frost, received listlessly a warning to get out their smudging pots again last night.

With the warning the weather bureau issued a bulletin that the worst of the cold wave had passed, but even this prediction of warmer weather brought with it some apprehension and uncertainty.

Danger in Sudden Thaw.

According to growers, a sudden return to the warmth of normal winter conditions would irreparably damage fruit which might be still in such condition that a gradual rise of temperature would leave it in marketable shape. This additional loss would mean practically the complete ruin of the citrus crop, the value of which has been placed at $50,000,000.

Smudging operations were in progress in many sections of the citrus belt last night. The outlay for this, added to the amount expended during the last two days for labor and smudge fuel, will bring the total frost fighting expense up to more than $500,000. The cost of fighting the frost has been approximately $1.25 an acre each night. Already there have been two nights of smudging on nearly every one of the 100,000 acres which comprise the citrus fruit zone of southern California.

Growers and representatives of fruit buying and shipping concerns reported that an inspection of the entire citrus country showed great devastation. The cold was so intense and so sustained in all sections that yesterday the orange and lemon foliage appeared shriveled and dry.

Much Nursery Stock Killed.

Orchardists maintain that the matured trees were not damaged, though they admit frost killed much nursery stock.

Pomona reported a damage of 80 per cent of the crop, but San Bernardino county appeared yesterday to be the heaviest sufferer. San Bernardino includes the large Redlands orange section, adjoining Riverside, and it was declared that 90 per cent of the crop was irretrievably ruined. In this county alone, it was asserted, growers would lose from $9,000,000 to $11,000,000.

Managers of the orange groves centering around Pomona held a meeting yesterday and announced that no fruit which showed signs of having been frozen would be received in the packing houses which prepare the oranges and lemons for shipment to market.

The weather has moderated considerably. In Los Angeles the temperature was 46 at noon and slightly higher at 3 p. m. in other places the thermometers recorded temperatures as high or higher. But the mercury began to drop at sundown, and it was expected the fruit growers at midnight would be in the midst of what the weather bureau predicted as the final "killing frost" of the present cold snap.

WORTH KNOWING

Cane seated chairs often sag and become uncomfortable even before the cane breaks. To prevent this rub a wet sponge over the cane on the under side frequently. This will cause the cane to shrink and become taut. It will last longer. Dont' put paint or varnish on the cane, as this will make it brittle.

Despite the fact that some of them manage to get enormous fees, it is said that the doctors, as a class, get poorer and poorer, financially, every year.

And Now Miss Billie Burke's Going to Write for the Men Who Read the Sentinel—Starting Tomorrow.

MISS BILLIE BURKE

Bachelors—ahoy!!

Greetings—you merely married men!

Also hail!

Mistress Billie Burke comes to your rescue—takes pity on your blind ignorance and says: "leave it to me!"

All of which means simply this:

Billie Burke will write FOR MEN hereafter—for a while, anyhow.

She has been contributing most valuable articles FOR WOMEN to the Daily Sentinel for several months. But MEN have read them, too!

Miss Burke has been asked many questions by men—men of high degree and men of low degree—men married, single and on the verge. They propound all sorts of questions. Most of them deal with present or prospective matrimony.

"What kind of a GIRL should I marry?"
"Why isn't my WIFE as she used to be?"
"Why can't I make a hit with NELLIE?"

Those are SOME of the questions she gets. Now she is going to answer them—not every individual question, of course, for that would be impossible. But all these questions naturally fall into certain groups and she will take them up in turn.

Miss Burke will explain a lot of things to these BLIND MEN—and maybe reveal a few FEMININE SECRETS.

She MAY stick a hatpin through a few of her male questioners, hold them up in the air and poke her finger at them!

Miss Burke is writing these articles especially for the Daily Sentinel, of course.

No MAN can afford to miss them.
And the editori s certain that no WOMAN will.
Read No. 1 in tomorrow's Sentinel.

BRAIDING CONTRASTS.

Tailormade gowns of the smarter kind are adorned with braiding of a more or less elaborate description, showing sometimes a curious contrast of color. A new skirt and coat costume, for instance, in navy blue serge is adorned with silk braiding carried out partly in navy blue and partly in a brilliant shade of crimson, the combination of the two colors being further emphasized by the addition of large porcelain buttons in the same tone of crimson. In the case of another gown, in gray velour de laine, a similar idea is materialized in a darker tone of gray combined with sapphire blue.

A gown which shows quite a new style of braiding is made in dark chestnut brown ratine, with a plain underskirt and a straight tunic of the same material, the tunic being adorned down the center of the front with nine lines of brown silk braiding carried straight across to the breadth of some six or eight inches on either side of the center, where, by the way, the tunic is fastened with tortoise shell buttons inlaid with gold. This braiding is arranged to give a tablier effect, and is afterward continued on the front of the bodice.

HELPS FOR THE HOME DRESSMAKER.

Supposing the skirt to be turned is a black serge. Before beginning the work of "turning" go out and buy a dozen yards of black military braid. Then come home and go to work. Cut off the band of the skirt, unpick the placket; turn the whole thing inside out and cut off all the seam turnings quite close to the stitching.

Each seam must be covered in the same way.

A placket of a silk skirt is always on the left side. So after having turned your skirt and covered the seam carefully, the next step is to change the placket over to the other side. Rip off the short pieces, used to bind the placket, and sew them onto the newly opened seam on the other side. Fasten up the old placket and braid up over it, hiding the place where it had been completed.

Put on a new band. Hem up the bottom of the skirt and the new garment is complete.

This method is suitable especially for a straight skirt.

ONLY ONE PUPIL ATTENDS.

Light Enrollment Will Close Township School Near New Haven.

Because the class records of a township school, two miles north of New Haven, contains only one pupil attending regularly, it has been decided to close the school and transfer its pupils to another place. Four students entered last fall, but three of them attended only once in a while and a single pupil went to the class every day.

A Pleasant township school will be opened again on Monday after a three weeks' vacation on account of a case of smallpox among the pupils. The classes were suspended to prevent the spread of the disease.

ELKS HOLD SOCIAL TONIGHT.

The local lodge of Elks will hold its old clothes social at the Temple tonight and an interesting program has been prepared. The inauguration of the new band also will be held. The organization hereafter will be known as the Fort Wayne Elks' City band and will be composed of members of the old Packard band.

Chicago's lighting gas rate is now 80 cents, but it is said quality has been reduced.

AID FOR CHILBLAINS.

(By a Physician.)

Put the feet into cold water which you have already mixed with salt or kerosene oil. Do this quite frequently. Be sure to dry the feet thoroughly after each bathing. Heat is bad for the feet when a person is suffering with chilblains. So is wool. Paint painful surfaces with iodine twice, allowing the first coat to dry well before applying the second.

POTTERY TARIFF LIKELY TO STICK

Underwood Indicates That Reduction is Not Probable.

PROFITS VERY LOW

Washington, Jan. 8.- Democratic Leader Underwood indicated today that the house ways and means committee would stand for the retaining of the tariff of 55 and 60 per cent on pottery. He announced that the testimony has satisfied the committee of highly competitive conditions of the industry in Europe.

William Burgess, of Trenton, N. J., discussing the pottery industry, said the average profit, because of a principal local cost, was less than 6 per cent.

The indications are that the democratic majority of the committee will sustain almost in the same detailed terms its chemical schedule as embodied in the separate bill that passed both houses, prior to the November election and was vetoed.

May Change on Spices.

It is possible that there may be some modification of the rates on spices, which several members of the committee favor, but this is uncertain. Democratic and republican members alike are expecting the schedule to emerge from committee in almost the identical form in which it was put up to the last session of congress and the president.

The only indication of a possible change in the schedule during the long testimony yesterday was while W. J. Gibson, a New York lawyer, was arguing for a 50 per cent ad valorem duty on spices and on all other luxuries.

"Wouldn't it tend to cut off importations if we put a higher duty on spices?" asked Chairman Underwood. "No," replied the witness, who added that spices, running from 5 to 18 cents a pound, were not expensive.

Mr. Gibson wanted to put cod liver oil on the free list because of its medicinal value to children. He classed spices as luxuries traceable to ancient sybaritic and voluptuous conditions in the south of Italy.

"No mother," said he, "gives her child spices, nor does anyone take them from real liking."

The chemical schedule covers products all the way from acid to zinc. Its terms did not evoke as strong an opposition as is expected when other schedules are up in the series of hearings that will be held until Jan. 31. After that the committee will wrestle with the whole tariff question so as to be ready for action at the coming extra session of the new congress.

Witness Testifies Cash Register Company Bought Out Rivals.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 8.—Hugh Chalmers, of Detroit, former vice president and general manager of the National Cash Register company, told the judge who is trying the thirty officials and former officials of the company who are charged with violating the criminal section of the Sherman anti-trust act of an alleged campaign to put dealers in second-hand cash registers out of the business. Thomas J. Watson, one of the defendants, Mr. Chalmers said, was designated to handle this campaign and went to New York and opened up a store called the Watson Cash Register Exchange within a few doors of the largest second-hand dealers in that city. The rival store finally sold out to Watson, he said. The same tactics were pursued in Philadelphia and Chicago with equal success, according to the witness.

RUGH'S COUSIN STIRS UP GARY

City Denies That Tribute to Newsboy Was Town Advertisement.

ROILED BY CHARGE

Gary, Ind., Jan. 8.—Citizens of Gary yesterday branded as false the charges that a tribute paid the memory of Billy Rugh was stimulated simply to advertise the steel city. It was asserted that offers to defray all expenses incurred by the illness and funeral of the newsboy who sacrificed his life for Miss Ethel Smith were refused.

Stirred by the reports circulated by Mrs. Ida McCabe of Rock Island, Ill., denouncing the show of feeling as insincere, offers to take over the bills were made. A lengthy explanation of the so-called misunderstanding was made by Mayor Knotts, while Arnold B. Kellar, cashier of the Gary State bank, offered to raise the necessary funds to meet all expenses immediately.

"The entire story told by Mrs. McCabe, Mr. Rugh's cousin, is erroneous," said Mayor Knotts. "The offer to meet all of the expenses was made, but the half-brother of the boy, H. C. Spearns, of Osco, Ill., declared that the family would not allow outside assistance.

"At the time the brother made this statement to me I had a telegram from the newsboys of Jackson, Mich., asking if they could pay for the funeral. I showed the telegram to him, and while he still was with me I filed an answer explaining the situation. 'If the boys want to do some other nice thing to show their sympathy, that will be all right, but we could not think of allowing them to pay for the funeral,' was what he told me.

"Regarding the surgeon's bill which Mrs. McCabe spoke of, it is my understanding that there was to be no fee to be paid by Mr. Rugh. That has been the general impression in Gary. The boy was to undergo the operation and sacrifice his crippled limb, but in doing so he was to incur no expenses for surgery. I do not understand why the woman feels as she does about this matter, for Gary most certainly was ready to do everything in its power to assist both the boy and his family."

A. B. Keller, W. P. Gleeson, superintendent of the steel mills, and W. A. Wirt, superintendent of the schools, have charge of the Rugh memorial fund, which now amounts to a little less than $400. Mr. Kellar, the treasurer, stated that no request to pay expenses out of the fund had been made to either himself or the mayor by Mrs. McCabe, as she stated. While he admitted he would not have allowed the money to be taken from this source, he declared that it would have been raised independently.

"If the family will accept it, I will start a subscription tomorrow and see that all the bills are met," he said. "I would not have the least trouble in getting the money immediately."

Dr. A. J. Craig, the surgeon, who attended both Miss Smith and Mr. Rugh, was not to be reached. His wife declared, however, that she understood there was only one bill and that included everything that was done.

NEED SOMETHING BUT WHAT IS IT

Financial Experts Differ Widely on Currency Revision.

UNABLE TO AGREE

Washington, Jan. 8.—That there is something radically wrong with the American monetary system was agreed to yesterday by all witnesses before the Glass sub-committee of the house banking and currency committee, which began a series of hearings with the purpose of devising a new currency scheme to be recommended to congress.

All the witnesses told the committee that what the country needed was a more elastic currency and a concentration of reserve funds, but opinions as to how these ends could be accomplished were varied.

A. Barton Hepburn, chairman of the board of directors of the Chase National bank of New York advocated a central bank similar to the one proposed by the national monetary commission, 51 per cent of the stock to be owned by the government, if necessary.

He said he was committed to the national monetary commission plan of currency reform, which is regarded as an intelligently and carefully considered system, which, is enacted into law, would result in great good to the country. He added, however, that he did not regard the Aldrich bill as the last word in currency legislation.

Denounces Deposits Guarantee.

Representative Bulkley questioned the witness as to the guarantee of bank deposits.

"If you think the guarantee of deposits would stop runs on banks, the sooner you get the idea out of your head the better," said Mr. Hepburn. "When the people want money, they want it, and it and nothing else will satisfy them. A guarantee would count for nothing at all."

To guarantee deposits, he added, would put a premium on recklessness, and to impose a tax to guarantee deposits would be to make good bankers responsible for the actions of bad bankers.

Chairman Glass questioned Mr. Hepburn closely concerning the divisional reserve bank idea, saying that the incoming administration was committed by the democratic platform against a central bank.

Speaking of government control of banks, Mr. Hepburn said the best article on this subject he had read in recent years was "The New Freedom," by Woodrow Wilson, in which the president-elect declared the Jeffersonian doctrine that the less a country is governed the better did not hold good under present-day conditions.

"We will have panics as long as human nature exists," said Mr. Hepburn. "In 1907 the whole world had overtraded, an the demand upon the mobile currency of the world was greater than it could bear."

Advocates Divisional Reserves.

Victor Morawetz, of the financial department of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad, told the committee that a banking system under which the United States had prospered and progressed so wonderfully could not be wholly bad.

"Great caution and conservatism are the first things to be considered in undertaking to change our banking and currency laws," he said.

Discussing the defects of the present system, Mr. Morawetz said the country's "rope of credit" was stretched to the extreme limit in normal times, and consequently could not bear any extraordinary strain.

"I do not think it would be desirable or practicable to establish a great central bank in the United States." Mr. Morawetz continued. "The plan I would suggest is to extend our clearing house system, to require the banks in various clearing house districts to form divisional reserve banks. Only divisional reserve banks should be permitted to receive as deposits the reserves of other banks."

These divisional banks, he added, should be so conducted as to be prepared always to furnish currency to other banks. They should do business only with other banks and their constituent members, and in easy times should accumulate currency in reserve for use in stringent times.

Paul Warburg, of the banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., of New York, insisted that a central reserve organization differing materially from a central bank was the only feasible remedy. He denounced the government guarantee of bank deposits idea.

HAVE TALK WITH WILSON.

Senator Hoke Smith and Senator Gore See President-Elect.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 8. Senator Hoke Smith, of Georgia, and Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, conferred with President-elect Wilson at the state house today on a variety of subjects affecting the new administration.

The chief subject before the trio was the reorganization of the committee and the status of the contest in Maine, New Hampshire, Illinois and South Dakota, where the election of democrats to the United States senate is considered a possibility.

MURRAY URGES A DRASTIC LAW

To Curb Bank Officers Who Take Personal Compensation for Loans.

ASKS OTHER REFORMS

Washington, Jan. 8.—Criminal statutes to prevent bank officers from accepting "personal compensation" for loans from their banks, regulation of loans to their own officers and directors and a stricter method of national bank examinations were among the monetary reforms endorsed today by Comptroller of the Currency Murray before the house "money trust" committee.

Mr. Murray testified that the acceptance of "personal compensation" by bank officers from borrowers was a growing evil that called for imperative action. He declared the banking laws "inadequate and ineffective" and said that the present system of national bank examination is superficial and ineffective.

SCHMICK IS ONE PLAYER TO LOSE

Smith Will Shake Up His Infield Before Season Opens.

KOEHLER TO REMAIN

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 8.—In the shake-up proposed for the Grand Rapids club of 1913 "Doc" Schmick is one of the men who will probably lose out as Manager Ed Smith says he has another man in view. Ben Koehler will stick at second and the outfield looks good to the manager but the inner guard will be mightily changed. In a letter on the subject the manager says:

"Last year before the season opened all said we would be up in the race every minute of the time. We would have been but for the exceptional number of players either laid up by injuries or by illness. This year we can scarcely have such bad luck, but if we do we will be fortified against it by having good men ready to step into the breach and fill the places of those out of the game, so that the regulars will scarcely be missed.

"I have lines out for a first baseman whom I know will please the fans and have other infielders and two pitchers and a reliable catcher in view. We need about five good men to put us in the running, with the assistance of the best men from last year's team. I consider our outfield already as strong as any in the league and do not consider that there is a better second baseman in minor league baseball than Ben Koehler. The infield is going to be greatly changed.

"If we have anything like a break of luck in our favor we are going to deliver this time. No one can blame the fans for being disappointed last season for we were disgusted ourselves. Every time when we seemed to have things breaking with us again there would be some player either injured or taken sick so as to weaken us enough to give our opponents the edge.

"The bad run of luck did not confine itself to the players either, as will be recalled, for it rained about every day that a good crowd was in prospect. Then to top it off the first cyclone known in these parts in years came along one day and blew off the roof of the grand stand. It would not have surprised any of us if an earthquake had swallowed up the park altogether.

"Like Owner Annis, I do not look for the fans to enthuse over a losing team and do not think the team deserves support unless it is worthy of it. I am glad to get back to Grand Rapids as manager another season to vindicate myself. I realize that the poor showing of last year's team reflects against the manager, and it is only right that it should be so that is, if when things break good for a team any credit is due the manager. I am willing to have it that way again in 1913 and do not believe the fans will have cause for feeling disappointed this time.

"The players will report about April 1 and will do their early work in Notre Dame gymnasium at South Bend unless it should prove an early spring in Michigan so the boys can work out in Grand Rapids on the grounds they will call home. I think that is very beneficial if weather conditions are favorable."

SAGINAW SIGNS THREE MEN.

Saginaw, Mich., Jan. 8.—Manager Holmes, of the Saginaw ball club, now has fifteen men signed to contracts. Three more pitchers sent in terms which were accepted Sunday. They are Ryan, Winters and Kane, all youngsters, who have had small league or semi-pro experience.

COULON CAN NOT SEE THAT MONEY

He is Not Enthused About Fight Game in France.

WILL HANG AROUND

Chicago, Jan. 8.—Despite the glowing accounts of the vast amount of money to be made by boxers in Paris given out by Billy Papke upon his return to this country, Johnny Coulon, bantamweight champion, is not in a mania to accept the offers that have been made for him to go there.

As a matter of fact the Logan Square star has decided to remain in this country and try to clean up all of the men that have been pestering him during the last three or four months.

"If they guaranteed me $5,000 for a battle with Lavigne, and handed me three round trip tickets, I might be induced to go over there," Johnny said in discussing the proposed trip. "But I know they are not going to kick in with any sum like that, considering that their first offer was only $3,000 for a winning fight.

"I'm asking that much for the simple reason that I can get $5,000 for making one battle on the Pacific coast with either Eddie Carmo or 'Kid' Williams, of Baltimore. This would be even more profitable to me than taking on the Lavigne proposition at 5 to 1, a waste of time considered.

"Of course I figure that the French promoters would be able to get me a number of battles over there, but I wouldn't leave the American field at that time unless assured of something pretty sweet in the way of guarantees.

"I know little or nothing about Lavigne, excepting what I have read in the papers. He is a good boy undoubtedly, but I doubt very much whether he could last a distance with me. Indeed, I figure that when in shape I could whip him inside of twelve or fourteen rounds. He is a hard hitter, undoubtedly, but I think he has very little else."

Paris has been advised about Coulon's terms, and a favorable reply is not unexpected. As a matter of fact Coulon hopes there will be no reply at all, because he doesn't want to go abroad.

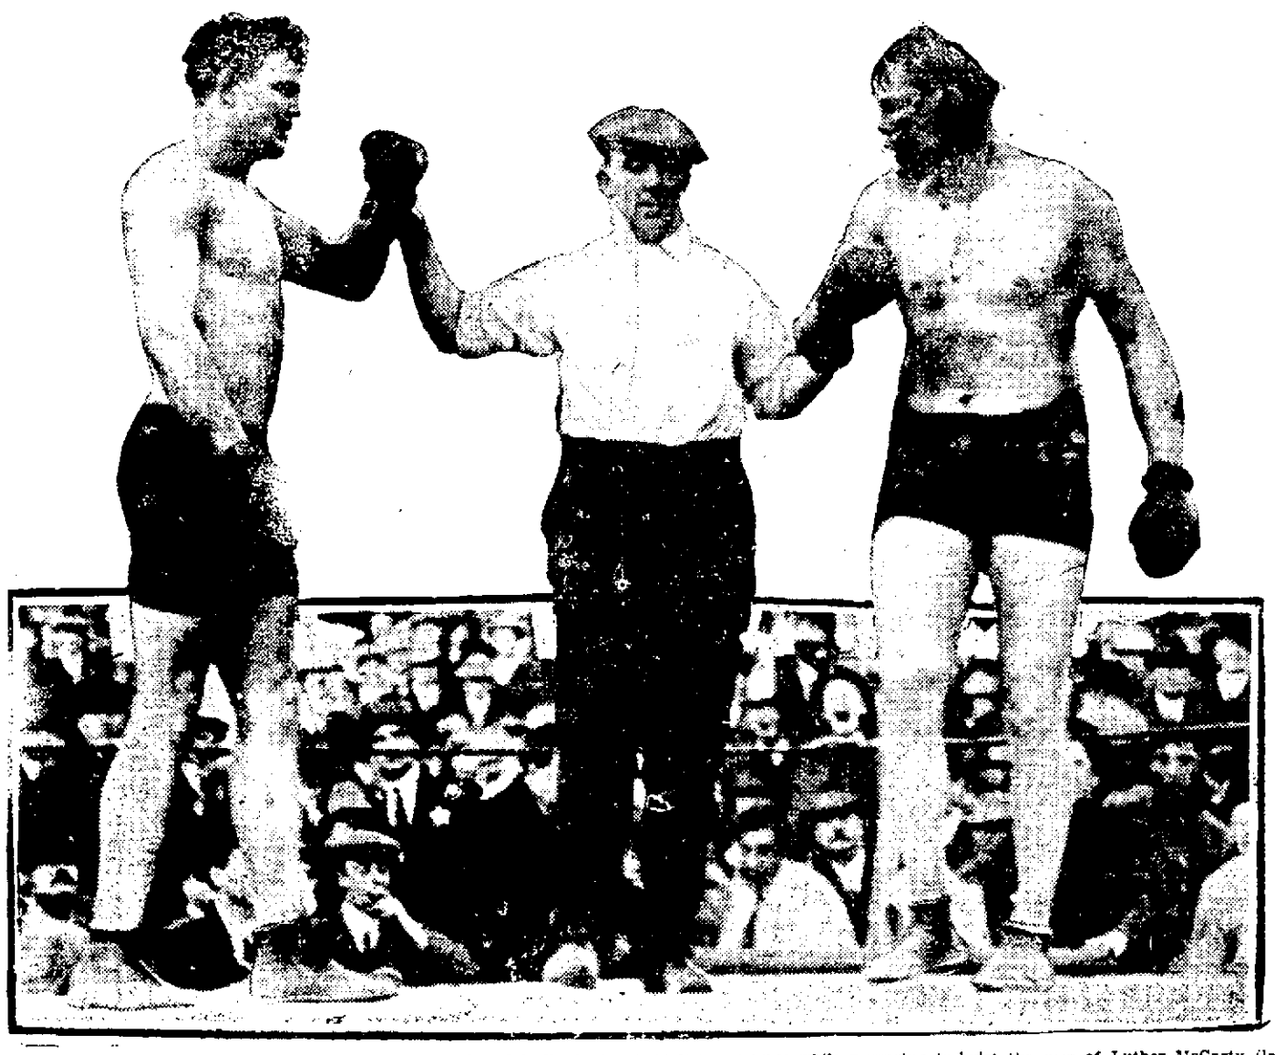
After Repeated Efforts on the Part of the Crowd to Get Palzer's Manager to Stop the Championship Fight Eyton Gave McCarty the Bout.



Referee Charley Eyton shoving aside the blood-spattered and badly battered Al Palzer (right) while preparing to hoist the arm of Luther McCarty (left), in token of victory in the eighteenth roundof their twenty-round world's heavyweight championship fight at Los Angeles, Cal., on New Year's day. McCarty was master of Palzer in almost every round from the fourth. Repeatedly the ex-cowboy called to Palzer's corner: "Why don't you stop it? Do you want me to kill him?"

Palzer's manager paid no attention until the referee took matters into his own hands, stopping the fight and saving the same Iowa boy from further punishment. The stopping of the battle met with the approval of all as Palzer had absolutely no chance.

CANVASS IS OPENED

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 8.—C. M. Watts, the man who secured an option on the local baseball franchise, stated today that the canvass for subscriptions has been very encouraging so far and that while he can swing the deal for $8,000, he would like to have an additional $2,000 so that he will have a fund on which to start the playing season.

Already there is $2,000 in sight to be deposited on Monday with the directors of the Central league as a guarantee that the club will finish the season and will abide by the by-laws of the organization, and even if the funds for the capitalization of the company are not collected by that time the men interested in the enterprise will be in shape to go ahead with their plans.

"I was stopped on the street a number of times today," said Captain Watts, "by persons who wished to buy stock. Although I have no one behind me, I have received nothing but encouragement on every hand. I placed the stock on sale this morning and I feel that it will all be disposed of in a short time. It is my intention to capitalize the company for enough money to run the club all season. The stockholders will not be called on to put up any funds to finish the season with, and I confidently believe that if everything turns out as it promises there will be a dividend declare next autumn.

"No one's money will be refused. I feel that the more persons that there are in the company, the more support that the team will have. It is planned to sell tickets to the seventy home games in quantities of twenty-five to one hundred before the season opens. There may be more than one hundred stockholders in the company. These stockholders will meet and elect a board of directors and president who will handle the affairs of the company and the club so that there will be no unwieldy concern to work with."

ANOTHER DAY TO PEDDLE TICKETS

South Bend Postpones a Meeting of Baseball Fans.

CALLED THURSDAY

(South Bend Times.)

The date of the meeting of the board of directors of the South Bend baseball club and others financially interested in the local organization has been changed from Wednesday until Thursday night. This extension of time will give the fans twenty-four hours more time in which to make their applications for season ticket books. At least 800 are expected by the baseball men, each book selling at $15 each.

The local men anticipate little trouble in rounding up a fast team in case it is decided to retain the Central league club here. The formation of a ball club is no slight undertaking, even with a fair nucleus about which to build, but if optimism counts South Bend will be well represented this year. Those engaged in pushing preparations for 1913 think the outlook was never better for a successful year in baseball. George Hahn, who has represented the club at two Central league meetings, and is in closer touch with the situation than any other, said last night:

"Things are lined up now for the best year South Bend ever enjoyed in baseball, in my opinion. If the fans display a solid sentiment favoring retention of Central league baseball in South Bend, I believe we will have a good year in every respect. The six-club circuit is practically assured for this year at least, and a good race will make money for every member of the league."

In local baseball circles it is generally believed Evansville will not be able to secure a berth in the Central league this year or the next.

WORST BATTER IN GAME.

Jack Hendricks Sold Him to Detroit but He Has Been Turned Back.

Pitcher Healy, whom the Tigers bought from Denver last year, has been returned to that club. Healy was listed at a very high price, most of which was to become due in the event of his retention, and President Navin after looking over his record for 1912 has decided that further investment would be questionable wisdom.

Healy has one distinction that would make him seem cheap at any price however. He is the world's worst batter, having been charged with eighty-two legal times at bat in 1912 without getting what even the most liberal scorers could call a base hit.

CARNARIUS WILL TAKE A PARTNER

Pirate Fielder Will Be Married at St. Louis This Month.

IS A ST. LOUIS GIRL

Maximillian Carnarius, known in the baseball world as Max Carey, former student of Concordia college here, will be married on Jan. 22 to Miss Aurelia Behrens, of St. Louis, a young woman with whom he became acquainted while he was a student at the Lutheran seminary in St. Louis.

Carnarius was one of the star athletes of Concordia college while he was preparing himself for the seminary, and his first engagement in semi-professional baseball was given him by Mart Cleary, who used him at short for his Shamrock team.

As an infielder he was not a howling success and by chance Eddie Wheeler placed him in the outfield after he had signed with the Benders, and he was one of the chief factors in 1910 in beating Fort Wayne to the Central league pennant.

Carey is almost a Fort Wayne product. His start in athletics was made here, as in addition to his work on the baseball team at Concordia and his play with the Shamrocks, he developed into a great basket ball player and was an all round athlete in his college days here.

His marriage is of interest in Fort Wayne owing to a large acquaintance in the city and sport loving people have always taken more or less pride in the fact that he went to the National league from the Central, made good from the start and in two years had taken the place of Manager Fred Clarke, regarded as one of the best outfielders in the organization.

CENTLIVRES HOLD LEAD.

Win Two in Warm Fight With the Hof Brau Players.

Members of the Centlivre bowling team won two in three at the Brunswick last night from the Hof Braus and retained the lead in the first league standing. Henry Pranger had high average and Siedler cut in in the final lap with high score. Bruno led the losing club.

In the second league games Coony's Little Havanas won three straight. C. Friedline and Moughin were high men. The scores:

COLLEGE MEN TO PLAY WITH CLUB

Saints Have Tough Opposition for the Saturday Game.

EXPECT BIG CROWD

When the Saints take the floor for their week-end conflict at Odeon hall Saturday night they will have some tough opposition if the advance notice on the South Bend Commercials count for anything.

In the first place Earnhart will be at center and he will be surrounded by a number of other college stars representing Notre Dame, Purdue and Indiana, and all have been on the same team long enough to put up a stiff argument in any sort of society. This is what is said of them in the press notices.

There will be a big crowd in attendance because the St. Mary's management has a debt to pay. When Bluffton failed to show up and sent no word announcement was made that all tickets sold for the game would be refunded and honored at the next scheduled game, and many of these tickets are standing out and will probably be presented.

Another advantage the Commercials have is that the players have been accustomed to a slippery floor, one that has the Odeon floor beaten to a frazzle. This will make it interesting as St. Mary's have had an advantage in this particular in their other games.

PITCHER WAS FIGHTER.

Philadelphia Gets Man Who Graduated from Prize Ring.

Charles Schneider, a young pitcher, who has been secured from the Louisville club by Manager Dooin of the Philadelphias, probably will command respect among his teammates when they learn that he formerly was a heavyweight boxer who called himself "Jack Reynolds." He took part in several bouts a year ago and gave an excellent account of himself. But as baseball always has been his forte, he has decided to give up pugilism for the diamond.

Schneider is powerfully built. He is a right-handed pitcher and comes to the Philadelphias with strong recommendations from the Louisville club and the Quakers' scouts.

OLD PLAYER SENT TO JAIL.

DIFFICULT TASK TO CALL FRIEND

Comiskey Had to Do It and Lost a Man by the Process.

LOAFED ON PLAYS

Chicago, Jan. 8.—Jimmy Callahan, manager of the Chicago White Sox, says the hardest thing for a manager to do is to offend a ball player who is one of his friends. Which recalls an instance of Charles A. Comiskey's character.

Many years ago—I was back in the early 80's—Comiskey was manager of the St. Louis Browns, and was winning world's championships from Anson's Colts of Chicago. On the Browns was a particular friend of Comiskey's, his roommate on the road. Commy thought the world of him. But for obvious reasons we have to call him by a stage name. Let's itself him Smith.

They played together for many years and Smith was a grand fielder. One fair day Cincinnati got hold of Comiskey and made him manager. Of course it was natural Commy took Smith along with him to the Red Stockings. Smith wasn't as young as he used to be, and he had a tendency to shirk long fly balls. He couldn't throw to the plate as well as formerly and he hated to let the fans know this.

It went along for a time. The other fielders would have to go back on the hard flies, while Smith would loaf. Finally the fans began panning Smith.

"You've got your nerve to be playing here just because you are a pal of Comiskey's," they would say.

One day Smith shirked a fly ball that a younger man would have had a chance getting. It was too strong even for the old Roman. He called Smith into his office that night.

"I'm sorry, Smith," he said, "but if I see you loafing on those balls again I'll have to suspend and fine you."

Smith was thunderstruck, cut to the quick. "Do you mean that, Comiskey?" he inquired.

"I do, and I won't hesitate either."

The ball player left the office, went straight to his room at the hotel and packed up. He didn't even wait to draw his pay check which was due him but left on the next train.

Fifteen years later Comiskey was manager of the St. Paul club and was visiting in Detroit. While there he was taken sick and had to go to a hospital.

Smith happened to be visiting over at Windsor, Canada, at the time and read about Comiskey's sickness in the newspapers. He hadn't seen his old pal for all those years and the bitterness had gone away in the meantime.

He called on Comiskey that afternoon. As he entered the room the old Roman recognized him in a moment.

He raised himself in bed, pointed his finger toward Smith and exclaimed: "That fine still goes, Bill."

This instance is one of many which shows how Comiskey has figured in baseball. The game comes before anything else with him. Friendship ceases the instant the umpire calls time and starts again when the last ball is caught.

Many a time newspaper men here tried to talk with him during the progress of the game, but they have learned better since. He won't take his eyes away from the battlefield, even to answer an important question. After the affair he can tell every ball that was pitched and every mistake that was made. Nothing escapes him.

First base is considered a comparatively easy place to play. But with the White Sox it's the most difficult. For the boss watches that player with an eagle's eye. He was a first baseman himself in the early days and was the first to make a real fielding place out of it. It was Comiskey who compelled his pitchers to cover the base on a ball he had to get.

So it doesn't pay to lay down on the job when he is watching. And this is every moment of the game. That's the reason the Sox are always fighting hard when at home. They do the same on the road, but perhaps not quite as hard as when they know Comskey's eyes are watching every play.

LONG'S MAN COMING BACK.

Freddie Welch Wants Crack at Ritchie but Will Take Others.

Freddie Welch, lightweight champion of England, self-styled champion of the world, and formerly under the management of Baron Long, of this city, will come to the United States about the middle of February for the express purpose of forcing Willie Ritchie into a match.

It is Welch's hope that he will be given the preference as the first opponent of Ritchie, but if he is denied this then the slim little Welshman will take on Joe Rivers, Ad Wolgast or Joe Mandot, as the promoters elect.

STAGG IN SEARCH OF HEALTH.

Chicago, Jan. 8.—Coach Stagg, of the University of Chicago, announced that he is about to leave for the south on account of his health. The announcement was a severe blow to athletic reports at the university.

It is said that the veteran trainer has not yet recovered from the illness which was the reason for him spending last winter in South Carolina. Coach Stagg will go to Florida probably today, and will not return to the university until late in the spring.

He said, however, that he would go to New York for the winter meeting of the general football rules committee.

LEAGUE WILL START AGAIN.

A new organization of the men's bowling league at the knitting mills has been effected and the schedule of forty-two games will start [illegible]. The clubs and captains are as follows:

Pull Bashion, Schoenherr captain; Shippers, Carr captain; Specials, Casebier captain; Loggers, E. Renz captain; Stock Clerks, Buhr captain; Formers, H. Miller captain.

NO MERCURY-NO POTASH
BUT A CERTAIN SAFE CURE

Do you know why so many Specific Blood Poison Victims are also sufferers of stomach trouble or Rheumatism? It is because they have filled their systems with mercury or potash in an effort to cure the blood disorder. These minerals cannot cure Specific Blood Poison; true such treatment will sometimes temporarily remove the outward symptoms and hold the poison in check but as soon as the minerals are left off the disease breaks out again. Any system saturated with mercury or potash is necessarily weakened and loses much of its resistive powers; it is a dangerous treatment and should be left off by any who are using it. There is a way—a certain way—to cure Specific Blood Poison, and that is to cleanse the blood with S. S. S., made entirely of roots, herbs and barks. It is a perfectly safe treatment for any one and is certain in its good results. S. S. S. has been recognized for many years as the greatest of all blood purifiers and the safest of treatments for blood poison. Home Treatment Book and medical advice free. S.S.S. ONE KILLED, 30 HURT IN WRECK

Big Four Train Derailed in Storm at Stockwell, Near Lafayette.

BROKEN WHEEL CAUSE

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 8.—Rushing through a driving sleet storm at a terrific rate of speed in an attempt to make up lost time, Big Four railroad passenger train No. 15, Chicago-bound, left the track at Rex, a small station twelve miles south of here, yesterday afternoon at 12:45 o'clock, killing one man and injuring more than thirty. Loose trucks and a broken flange on the express and baggage car are given as the cause of the wreck.

Ammerman, G. A., Greenburg, Ind.
Unidentified man; still unconscious and may die; suffering from cuts and bruises and a fractured skull; has remained unconscious ever since accident.

The baggage car was the first to leave the track. The trucks doubled under it, breaking the coupling between it and the mail car, ahead.

The baggage car crumpled up and plunged down a ten-foot embankment at the left side of the track. Conductor Schlechter, Baggageman Dearmond and Brakeman Power, all of Cincinnati, were in the baggage car eating dinner at the time of the crash. They were hurled to one end of the car and pinned down by the boxes and packages until released by the relief workers.

The car was a pile of debris. The smoking car, next behind the baggage coach, left the tracks at the right and turned a somersault. The end of the car was crushed in and it was practically demolished. The next day coach went down the embankment on the right and piled up alongsile the smoking car.

Other Cars Are Upset.

The third day coach, Pullman cars and diner remained at the top of the embankment, but were turned over. When the crash came the dining car was filled with passengers.

Tables and dishes were thrown in every direction and a number of persons were cut by flying glassware. The wreck occurred one-half mile west of Stockwell and as soon as possible persons from that town rushed to the scene to give aid to the injured.

COONY BAYER CIGAR COMPANY'S

Increase Tremendous During Past Year.

The revenue records show that the Coony Bayer Cigar company manufactured 3,419,000 cigars during the past year, an increase of 824,500 over the previous year.

Mr. Coony Bayer stated that if the same increase continues, it will be an absolute impossibility to take care of the business in their present factory, which was built only eleven years ago and then thought large enough for many years to come. We must build a new and larger factory if the increase continues, stated Mr. Bayer, and if it is built you can rest assured that it will be up to date in every particular and large enough to accommodate from two to three hundred hands.

Our hobby is quality and our success shows plainly how the public appreciate value received for their money.

PLAYGROUNDS GET BENEFIT.

Printers Turn Over $99.50 as Receipts of Vaudeville Show.

The amount resulting from the printers' vaudeville given in November for the benefit of the playgrounds was $99.50. Henry Pressler, a member of the finance committee, and who had charge of the program advertising, has turned over $124.50 to Chairman Herman Meyers. Twenty-five dollars of this amount must be taken to clear off the remainder of the expenses, leaving $99.50 to go to the playground association.

Prepared to vote for measures that will be of most benefit to the people of Indiana and standing ready to champion all bills that will directly benefit the residents of Allen county, local representatives elected last autumn have gone to Indianapolis to attend the opening session of the Indiana legislature.

Charles W. Koenig, who serves his first term, and Clifford J. Moran, who was re-elected, left for the capital city early this morning. William H. F. Moellering and State Senator Stephen B. Fleming went to Indianapolis Tuesday. A large number of prominent Allen county men are planning to attend the opening of the legislature, and will go to Indianapolis either this evening or early tomorrow morning. Edward G Hoffman, chairman of the Twelfth district democrats, will leave early tomorrow morning.

Support Business Form.

Although they have made no public declaration as to their position, it is believed that all the Allen county representatives will support the bill asking for the business form of municipal government. The charter for the proposed system of city government was framed in Fort Wayne, and according to Representative Moran, it has met with favor in all parts of the state.

Among others who have already gone to Indianapolis is John Wessel, jr., former secretary of the county democratic committee. It is understood that Mr. Wessell is again to preside as reading clerk of the house.

Buffalo is discussing a project to build a much-needed new city hall. Present structure, built in 1876, won't be fully paid for until 1936.

BARE FEET SHOCK THIS OPERA STAR

Premiere Dansuese Rebels an Exemplification of Eurythmy.

INSISTS ON HOSIERY

Chicago, Jan. 8.—Rosina Galli, premiere dansense of the Chicago Grand Opera company, yesterday suffered a severe attack of "temperamental tantrums."

A 16-year-old Chicago girl, Miss Virginia Fissinger, of 933 Eastwood avenue, was the innocent cause of it all, because she was to appear before the patrons of grand opera and give an exhibition of "eurythmy" in true "eurythmic" costumes.

The announcement of Miss Fissinger's intended appearance was made at the rehearsal for the grand ballet divertisement, which is to follow the production of the opera "Noel" this afternoon.

Danseuse Leaves Stage.

Rosina Galli immediately stamped her little foot and said that the ballet dances today would be given without her assistance, and walked off the stage.

Luigi Albertieri, the ballet master, who in the course of his career has seen many attacks of temperamental tantrums, immediately gave "first aid," and with a few well-chosen words and diplomatic gestures restored peace and harmony in the ranks of the ballet.

After a few stormy moments Galli had been persuaded that the entire production would be a failure without her aid, and she consented to appear upon one condition.

Makes One Condition.

That condition was that the eurythmic garments be robbed of some of their "eurythmy" and be of a more substantial character than the rules provide for, and that Miss Fissinger be not allowed to display her pink toes to the patrons of the opera.

A compromise was finally effected, and Miss Fissinger, when she appears this afternoon, will wear pink stockings and shoes, besides the regular garment which is provided for in the rules of eurythmy. This garment consists of a suit similar to a bathing costume.

Miss Fissinger will appear today in two dances after the production of "Noel," which is presented today for the first time in this country. She will present "eurythmy" officially to the public while the premiere danseuse and the de ballet are changing costumes.

For nearly a year Miss Fissinger has studied the new art under Mrs. Arend Van Vlissingen, of 934 Wilson avenue, who instructed Isabelle Duncan before that celebrity made her first public appearance.

FINDS NEW ANTARCTIC LANDS.

German Explorer Reports Naming Ice Barrier After Kaiser.

Berlin, Jan. 7.—Lieutenant Wilhelm Filchner, German antarctic explorer, returned with his expidition today to Buenos Aires after an absence of fifteen months. He cabled that he had discovered new land, which he named Prince Regent Luitpold Land, and also an ice barrier, which he named Kaiser Wilhelm II.

It was not Lieutenant Filchner's intentions to attempt to reach the south pole. His purpose was to learn the character of the land in the antarctic circle and whether it was a continent or consisted of islands diveded by frozen arms of the sea.

His vessel was equipped with wireless telegraph apparatus. He carried a number of hardy ponies for work on the ice. The expidition was provided also with motor sleds.

SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

NOT SERIOUSLY AFFECTED

Storm Did Less Damage Than Steam Line Managers Expected.

LAKE ERIE WIRES DOWN NEAR MUNCIE

Passenger Trains and Fast Freights Moved Without Much Trouble

The situation on the railways in this part of the country last night was not as bad as anticipated, despite the worst storm of the winter. Some of the passenger trains were late in reaching the city and all of the through freight and locals were more or less hampered, but taken as a whole they moved over the lines in fairly good shape. The tonnage of all through freight trains was reduced to a point commensurate with the weather conditions and as a result there were more trains on all lines than would otherwise have been the case and all the motive power and engine and train crews were worked to the limit. The situation is improving and the ill-effects of the storm will have disappeared entirely by tomorrow unless the weather makes a sudden and unexpected change for the worse. Some of the roads had considerable trouble with their telegraph lines and the Lake Erie and Western lines went completely out of commission some time during the night and were not repaired until this afternoon. The trouble was between Muncie and Fort Wayne. Other lines worked badly, but none were prostrated, to the surprise of the road officials and the operators.

186 YEARS OLD.

Worked 115 Years For the Pennsylvania.

Today Conductor John A. Phipps, Freight Agent E. H. Kirkland, Trainmaster J. F. Patterson and Superintendent W. M. Wardrop o fthe Pennsylvania are 186 years old and have been employed by the company 115 years. The three last named quietly followed the usual course of duty at the office, while conductor Phipps spent the day at home, presumably planning to entertain the others this evening. They expect something of the kind from Mr. Phipps, but have not been able to figure out whether it will be a theater party to the Majestic, where "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will be the attraction, or a moving picture show. Anyhow there will be a gathering of some kind tonight and as Mr. Phipps has the advantage of a year or two seniority, the others leave the character of the blow-out to him.

TEN NEW CONDUCTORS.

Pennsylvania Advances Some Worthy Employes.

Assistant Trainmaster Charles E. McKeehan, of the Pennsylvania, yesterday gave ten men up for promotion the final examinations and as a result E. Moody, W. Turner, B. D. Boone, C. Robinson, E. H. Stumpf, T. E. Harter, E. Barber, C. W. Klinefelter, E. Abbott and E. E. Nafzgar will hereafter have charge of freight trains. Each has been in the service several years and passed a very creditable examination. The company is also increasing the number of engine crews and is hiring a few good men for firemen.

ELEVEN LABORERS RESIGN.

Macedonians Quit Their Jobs at Pennsylvania Shops.

Eleven Macedonians employed in the erecting shop of the Pennsylvania called there this morning to "get their time." They will, it is said, leave in a day or two for the east. These men laid off yesterday to participate in the celebration of Macedonia's Christmas and it was expected they would report for duty this morning. Instead they quit the service and asked for their time.

HAD FIVE INJURY PATIENTS.

Dr. C. B. Stemen, chief surgeon of the Pennsylvania, received five new injury patients at his office yesterday, none being serious, however. C. E. Rider, of the store room, had his hand injured by something falling upon the member; G. Van Horn had one of his hands hurt while working in the erecting shop; W. C. Doerman had a hand bruised while at work in the blacksmith shop; F. E. Florian sustained injuries by falling from a load of lumber at the east shops and J. G. Sloper had a toot injured by a piece of steel falling upon it.

LIMA-CRESTLINE RUN.

Owing to the heavy volume of through freight business on the Pennsylvania, the officials have added two through freight trains on sub-division C, between Lima and Crestline. Each will make one trip over that portion of the line, each night, leaving Lima and Crestline at 9 o'clock. At present the "emergency" plan of selecting crews is in force, but regular crews will be assigned in a few days.

IRVIN TOY IN HOSPITAL.

Chief Electrician Irvin Toy, of the Pennsylvania, is in Hope hospital suffering severely from an attack of erysipelas of the leg. Mrs. Toy was called to Lima, O., several days ago by news of the serious illness of her grandparents and rather than alarm her by calling her home to take care of him, Mr. Toy went to the hospital.

BILLY BRENNAN INJURED.

Machinist William Brennan, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, had the sleeve of his coat to catch in the back gear of the machine he was operating at noon yesterday and before he could extricate it or stop the machinery, the arm was drawn into the gear and the wrist lacerated and bruised severely. Fortunately no bones were broken.

TO GO TO INDIANAPOLIS.

Next Saturday R. C. Schmid will resign a position with Chief Draftsman William Stephan, of the Pennsylvania. He has accepted a similar position in the office of the Big Four at Indianapolis and will leave for that city Saturday night.

ENGINE HOSTLER HURT.

John Neukam, hostler at the Pennsylvania round house, had a foot badly bruised last night shortly after midnight. He was putting coal in the fire box of an engine, when a big chunk of the fuel rolled from the top of the pile in the tender and struck his foot.

VICTIMS OF ICY WALKS.

Ed Hambrock, a cabbuilder at the Pennsylvania shops, is disabled by a lame foot and Leo Freimuth, of the planing mills, is unable to work on account of a sprained wrist. Each was injured by a fall while doing some work about the yard at their homes.

MOLTEN IRON SPLASHED IN FACE.

Blacksmith Samuel Dunbar, of the Pennsylvania, had his face, eyes and neck painfully burned yesterday when a blow from a hammer "splashed" the hot metal over him. The sight was not injured.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

William Bohde, a blacksmith at the Bass works, is off duty on account of sickness.

M. R. Haslup, A. J. Johnson, J. C. Gnau and E. White, Pennsylvania shopmen, are sick and off duty.

Machinist T. W. Bauer, of the Wabash, is confined to bed by a severe attack of rheumatism.

Charles Bloom, of the Pennsylvania car machine shop, is off duty on account of the illness of his mother.

The Fort Wayne Electric Works Mutual Benefit association will hold its monthly meeting Thursday evening.

Charles Thorp is a new meter packer in Shipping Clerk John Keiss' department at the Fort Wayne Electric works.

Chief Clerk W. L. Wilt, of the motive power department, is in Cleveland today on business for the Pennsylvania.

Machinist Chester Pearson, of the Bass blacksmith shop, is off duty on account of the arrival of a pretty baby boy at his home yesterday.

Notice of an eight hour working schedule was posted at the Wabash shops yesterday. The greater portion of the force had been working nine hours per day.

Fred Rempis, the elevator man who was injured at the Electric works several months ago, is improving and was able to visit the shop yesterday for the first time since the accident.

General Foreman H. T. Hogan, of the Pennsylvania machine shop, is suffering from an injured foot and was unable to get to the shop this morning. Harry Emmerson, a gang foreman, is also off duty, being sick with a cold.

Machinist E. E. Tierney, of the Pennsylvania round house, and his daughter, Miss Mildred Tierney, are planning a trip to Canandagua, N. Y. Mr. Tierney's brother, Martin, resides in that city and is sick. They will leave January 27.

Foreman C. C. Dean, of the Wabash boiler shop, and Boilermakers W. Smead, L. T. Scherer, J. F. Minnich, Frank Koehl, H. L. Gunn and E. A. Baumgart went to Montpelier yesterday to carry out some special work in the round house at that place. They will be gone for several days.

Master Mechanic G. W. Smith, of the Wabash, is in Springfield, Ill., taking a part in the wage conferences between the officials and the machinists, blacksmiths, pipefitters and boilermakers. General Shop Foreman Henry Eisele, who had been at Springfield on a similar mission, arrived home this morning.

THE CITY COURT DOCKET.

Tame Assortment of Offenders Faced Judge Mungovan This Morning.

The offenders who faced Judge Mungovan in the city court this morning were decidedly tame. John Sterling wasn't so tame yesterday, though, as he was picked up in the Rolling mill district after he had attacked Mrs. Meyers, proprietor of a boarding house in that section. What degree of success he attained in the attack could not be learned this morning, but his left eye bore some discoloration. His case was continued until next Monday morning, as the prosecuting witness did not appear this morning.

John Poage and Jack Sheehan, each got off with $1 and costs on a charge of drunkenness, but Frank Campbell was assessed $5 and costs because he used bad language on the street.

Joe Duffy and Arthur Benson are being held until Monday morning without bail on a loitering charge. John Corbett, aged 12 years, who was picked up with them, was found to have run away from his home at Decatur. His father, T. C. Corbett, arrived here this morning to take his son home.

PREFER "MOVIES" TO CHURCH.

Police Chief Orders Picture Theaters Closed to Aid Ministers.

Des Moines, Jan. 8.—Moving picture theaters in this city must remain closed until noon every Sunday. Orders to that effect were issued by J. W. Jenney, chief of police, today. He said his action was the result of protests from local ministers who said the "movies" kept children away from Sunday school.

SHOOTS WIFE AND KILLS SELF.

Illinois Husband is Prompted by Jealousy to Seek Death.

Dixon, Ill., Jan. 8.—George Kinney of 417 Highland avenue, formerly an employe of a shoe manufacturing company shot and fatally wounded his wife and killed himself yesterday. Jealousy was the cause.

FIREMEN RESCUE AGED WOMAN.

Mrs. Rachael Daugherty, of 360 West Washington street, probably owes her life to Lieut. William F. Brandt and Fireman J. Howard, of No. 3 engine house. Some time Tuesday morning Mrs. Daugherty suffered a stroke of paralysis, and as she lives alone in the rear of the house, no one was around to attend the stricken woman. The Howard family lives in the front part of the building, and Mrs. Howard was accustomed to see Mrs. Daugherty about her house during the mornings. Mrs. Howard missed the aged woman on Tuesday morning, and notified her husband at 10:30 o'clock. Fireman Howard and Mr. Brandt made an investigation and found Mrs. Daugherty in a helpless condition. Dr. P. Van Swearingen and Dr. E. E. Morgan were summoned and revived her. Relatives also were notified and the patient is now being well cared for

FORT WAYNE MEN WHO WERE CALLED TO JOHNSTOWN DURING THE DISASTROUS FLOOD

The half tone picture above will recall to some of the readers the Johnstown flood horror of 1889, for it represents the gang of bridge carpenters sent from this city, in charge of Thomas Jackson, who was then engineer of maintenance of way of the Western division, to assist in repairing the bridges. The negative from which the picture was made was taken by Mr. Jackson and this accounts for the absence of his portrait in the group. Beginning at the top row and reading to the right the personnel of the group is as follows: Upper row William Miller, now a crossing watchman at Bucyrus; Crawford Griswold, then the master carpenter, but on the retired list the past five years; D. C. Zook, now the master carpenter, residing in Fort Wayne; Ed Segrist, residing in Lima; Norman Mount, lost his life in accident in the Chicago railway yards; Samuel Millhouse, still a member of the Pennsylvania carpenter gang; O. G. Butterfield, deceased; L. Bates, for many years foreman of the pile driver gang, deceased; Will Snyder, who went to the Pacific Coast railway several years ago; S. W. Shinabarger, foreman of a bridge gang; Frank Liebert, still with the company; A. F. Miller, master carpenter at Chicago; W. B. Bevelheimer, assistant carpenter foreman at Fort Wayne; Philip Kraft, deceased. A few hours after the flood did its damage to the Pennsylvania tracks, Mr. Jackson was instructed to organize a force and proceed at once to the scene of the disaster to assist in putting in new bridges and tracks and the picture was taken soon after the men arrived at Johnstown. It represents them standing in and at the side of a commissary car, such as is used in wreck trains. This negative and a number of others, including some scenes of the flooded districts, were found a few days ago in some old papers in a storage closet in the Pennsylvania office building. They had been placed there either by Mr. Jackson or some one connected with his department. Copies of them have been taken by Harry J. Krueger, of the division engineer's office, and The Sentinel is indebted to him for this and others that will be published later.

BOWSER MEN HAVE GOOD TIME

Attend Shows Play Billiards and Bowl After the Business.

BANQUET THURSDAY

The main features of the program of the Bowser Pacemakers' meeting today were addresses at the morning business session by C. M. Wessells on "Advertising and Selling the Store," and by H. N. Follies on "Personal Efficiency in Selling," in which he emphasized the main points with stereopticon pictures, and a trip in the afternoon to the Wayne Knitting mills, where the visitors were courteously escorted through the big plant by the officers and foremen of the mills. This evening the management of the Bowser company will entertain the salesmen and their wives at the home of Treasurer and Mrs. C. A. Dunkelburg, and a feature of this entertainment will be some vaudeville work by some professional showmen who are coming down from Chicago for that purpose.

Following the business session yesterday came an evening of pleasure to the salesmen. Some went to the theaters and others took a part in the billiard and bowling games at the Kappel and Brunswick alleys and pool room. The company rented these two places of amusement for the evening and invited all salesmen who were interested in those games to take advantage of this opportunity to enjoy themselves, and many did so. At the bowling contests at the Kappel alleys were F. H. Richardson, Boston; J. H. Armstrong, Fort Wayne; C. F. Comstock, New York; W. R. Hance, Toronto; W. W. Morris, jr., Dallas; F. W. Devereaux, New York; C. R. Eggleston, New York; H. J. Jeavons, Toronto; R. D. Leonard, Fort Wayne; T. C. Potts, Fort Wayne; A. F. Todd, Atlanta; D. Ward, of Minneapolis, all taking part in the games. Those who visited the Brunswick pool rooms and took part in the billiard games were G. A. Steel, St. Louis; W. C. Smith, San Francisco; H. J. Bradshaw, Fort Wayne; C. M. Carpenter, Boston; W. G. Chandler, Atlanta; H. E. Dobson, New York; E. P. Dolan, Dallas; J. C. Olson, St. Louis; G. H. Schnabel, Fort Wayne; S. B. Bechtel, Fort Wayne; E. J. Little, Fort Wayne; H. M. Bowser, Fort Wayne; D. J. Johnson, San Francisco; J. J. Rodman, Dallas; A. W. Dorsch, Logansport; H. W. Brown, J. L. Walker, H. C. and C. M. Carpenter and L. F. Johnson.

The convention is proving a most enjoyable and profitable gathering to the salesmen and there is apparently a deeper interest taken in the business sessions than ever before. The big event of the week, of course, will be the banquet at the Anthony hotel tomorrow night and all are looking forward with anticipations of the "best time of their lives." To that occasion, as stated by The Sentinel yesterday, two noted speakers from other cities will be at the banquet and deliver addresses. Wilbur D. Nesbit, of Chicago, the famous humorist, will talk on a "Few Well Chosen Words," and Hon. Frederick Landis, of Logansport, will talk on "Some Observations."

DAUGHTER TAKES STAND.

Says She Screamed to Men Not to Shoot Ed Callahan.

Winchester, Ky., Jan. 8.—Mrs. Lillian Gross, daughter of former Sheriff Ed Callahan, of Breathitt county, for whose death fifteen men were indicted, spent most of yesterday on the witness stand in the cases of Andrew Johnson and Dock Smith, charged with complicity in her father's death.

She had previously testified that she saw the two men hidine on a mountain side fire the shots that killed the former sheriff. Yesterday she testified she had screamed to them not to shoot, and had caught her wounded father in her arms.

DEATH DUE TO POISON.

Lifeless Body of St. Louis Manufacturer Found After Search.

St. Louis, Jan. 8.—Phillip J. Reuter, 36 years old, president of the Reuter Manufacturing company, was found dead in a deserted third floor room of the company's plant yesterday after relatives had been searching for him twenty hours.

At first it was thought he had died of heart disease, but the autopsy said death was caused by poisoning.

In Reuter's clothing was found a note to his wife, which she has not made public, an automatic pistol and $326 in drafts and checks.

HENNING BOUND OVER.

Otto Henning, charged by Miss Catherine Deck with being the father of her child, was bound over to the Allen circuit court in Justice Grabner's court Tuesday afternoon. Only the testimony of the girl was heard. Henning pleaded not guilty to the charge. He is held under $400 bond.

Facts in Nature

FOR centuries it has been known that Nature's most valuable health giving agents for the cure of disease are found in our American forests. Over forty years ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N.Y., used the powdered extracts as well as the liquid extracts of native medicinal plants, such as Bloodroot and Queen's root, Golden Seal and Stone root, Cherry bark and Mandrake, for the cure of blood diseases. This prescription as put up in liquid form was called and has enjoyed a large sale for all those years in every drug store in the land. You can now obtain the powdered extract in sugar-coated tablet form of your medicine dealer, or send 50c in one-cent postage stamps for trial box to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N.Y., and tablets will be mailed, postage prepaid.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, red blood, invigorates the stomach, liver and bowels and through them the whole system. Skin affections, blotches, boils, pimples and eruptions—result of bad blood—are eradicated by this alterative extract—as thousands have testified.

How to Shed a Rough, Blotchy, or Faded Skin

(From Beauty's Mirror.)

This is what you should do to shed a bad complexion: Spread evenly over the face, covering every inch of skin, a thin layer of ordinary mercolized wax. Let this stay on over night, washing it off next morning. Repeat daily until your complexion is as clear, soft and beautiful as a young girl's. This result is inevitable, no matter how soiled or withered the complexion. The wax literally absorbs the filmy surface skin, exposing the lovely young skin beneath. The process is entirely harmless, so little of the old skin coming off at a time. Mercolized wax is obtainable at any drug store; one ounce usually suffices. It's a veritable wonder worker for rough, chapped, reddened, blotchy, pimpled, freckled or sallow skin.

Pure powered saxolite is excellent for a wrinkled skin. An ounce of it dissolved in a half pint witch hazel makes a refreshing wash lotion. This renders the skin quite firm and smooth; indeed, the very first application erases the finer lines; the deeper ones soon follow.

THE BEST TEACHER

Old Experience Still Holds the Palm.

For real practical reliability and something to swear by, experience—plain old experience—is able to carry a big load yet without getting swaybacked.

A Western woman found some things about food from Old Experience a good, reliable teacher. She writes:

"I think I have used almost every breakfast food manufactured, but none equal Grape-Nuts in my estimation.

"I was greatly bothered with weak stomach and indigestion, with formation of gas after eating, and tried many remedies for it but did not find relief.

"Then I decided I must diet and see if I could overcome the difficulty that way. My choice of food was Grape-Nuts because the doctor told me I could not digest starchy food.

"Grape-Nuts food has been of great benefit to me for I feel like a different person since I began to eat it. It is wonderful to me how strong my nerves have become. I advise everyone to try it, for experience is the best teacher.

"If you have any stomach trouble—can't digest your food, use Grape-Nuts food for breakfast at least, and you won't be able to praise it enough when you see how different you feel." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in packages. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest.

Mr. Siemon was born May 30, 1826, in Ludweiler, Prussia, and had resided in Fort Wayne for sixty years. He retired from business twenty-five years ago. Mrs. Siemon died six years ago.

FINDS CHILDREN NEED ATTENTION

Half of Pupils in Public Schools Physically Defective.

STATES DR. DANCER.

After having completed the examination of pupils in five of Fort Wayne public schools, Dr. Charles R. Dancer declares that more than one half of the total number examined are physically defective in some way. His statement is based upon reports submitted by Dr. John H. Gilpin and Dr. F. J. Schultz, who today filed statistics showing that the school children of Fort Wayne are suffering from numerous defects, many of which need urgent medical attention.

Thus far 1,024 pupils have been examined and of this number 555 have been requested to receive medical treatment. Nearly four hundred of the pupils suffer from defective eyes; 35 have been found with defective ears; 158 have adenoids; 228 suffer from enlarged tonsils and 264 have defective teeth.

The work of examining the children of the public schools has been in progress for several weeks, and the results have started members of the school board as well as the city health department. Dr. Dancer is assisted by Dr. Gilpin and Dr. Schultz, both of whom are to hereafter submit weekly reports.

when it goes to the legislators it will have some strong support from people interested in civic improvements. In Fort Wayne it would apply particularly to the garbage disposal proposition and if the efforts now being made to secure an assembly hall fail under existing laws, the structure might be obtained through the proposed enactment.

Details Not Fully Determined.

Mr. Hogan has been given in a general way teh ideas of the promoters of the project and when his draft is completed it will be carefully considered before it is finally submitted.

Mr. Hogan spent most of today in preparing the proposed law and will have it ready within a short time and it will be one of the bills that the legislature will get in the first few days of its session.

Bond Issue Ordinance.

At the same time Mr. Hogan is preparing an ordinance to be submitted at once to the city council providing a bond issue for the erection of an assembly hall. This is being drawn at the request of the Commercial club committee appointed to secure a structure of this kind and of which W. M. Griffin is chairman.

Possibly this ordinance will go in at the next meeting of the council. Mr. Hogan gives as his opinion that there is an Indiana law under which the council may issue bonds for this hall. While the act in question does not specify assembly halls, it sets out that bonds may be issued for all legitimate purposes, and this he considers one of them.

While no amount has been fixed it is thought that $75,000 will be asked for the hall when the matter is formally presented. In view of the fact that a president will be elected at the next meeting it is probable that the presentation of the new ordinance will be deferred for two weeks.

sylvania law, making it a violation to hang new paper on a wall before the old has been removed. The matter will be taken up with the state board of health before the proposed bill is framed. It is hoped to have a law passed before the close of the coming session of the Indiana legislature.

Debate in Convention.

The state delegates entered into a lively argument during this morning's session on the question of using ready mixed paint. The debating followed the presentation of a paper by S. H. Hart, of Detroit, Mich., whose subject was "Ready Mixed Paint or Paint Ready for Use." Opinion was divided on the feasibility of using ready mixed paint and after argument had waxed hot for a half hour or more, President Jones rapped for order and made announcement to the effect that each man was entitled to his own conclusions on the subject.

F. J. Mack, of Indianapolis, who was a delegate to the last international convention, presented his report this morning. It was unanimously accepted.

Among those from out of the state who are attending the convention is Professor Sabin, of New York City, a chemist of national reputation. Professor Sabin delivered an interesting and instructive address on the subject of "Red Lead." In closing he informed the delegates that the coming year is full of promise for the painters, as business has made remarkable strides, and master painters are expected to have more orders than they can fill.

The morning session closed with a resolution of sympathy to Earl Thompson, of the Wheeler Varnish works, of Chicago, who was called to his home on account of the sudden death of his brother, Albert Thompson, of Milwaukee.

With other communications acted upon by the convention, was one from John Dewar, of Pittsburg, ex-president of the International Association of Master Painters and Decorators, who wishes the Indiana organization to assist all that it can in securing national legislation to control the manufacture of paint. It is likely that the convention will adopt resolutions asking for the enactment of a new pure paint law.

To Invite Employers.

The convention will devote considerable time Thursday afternoon to the subject, of "Workingmen's Compensation Law," and a paper will be presented dealing with this question, by C. A. Wilhelm, of Indianapolis. This subject is of vital interest to employers of labor in Indiana and it is possible that all Fort Wayne men who employ labor of any kind, will be invited to attend the meeting and participate in the discussions.

Papers presented this afternoon were as follows: "Soya Bean Oil," by Professor Garner, and "Habits," by Hallie Geyer, of Lafayette, vice president of the association.

At 6 o'clock this evening the delegates will enjoy a banquet at the Masonic temple. State President Oliver S. Rice will preside as toastmaster, and es will close of the feast, the dele Temple witness the performance theater.

SEES WOMEN AS RACE SAVERS.

Champ Clark Tells Meaning of Advent of American Suffragists.

Washington, Jan. 8.—In an address before the Woman's National Democratic league, which convened here in its first annual convention, Speaker Champ Clark expressed the belief that the advent of women in politics would have for its field of endeavor the amelioration of the conditions of the human race, the relief of poverty and the inculation of morality.

The speaker was followed by Mrs. John Sherwin Crosby, of New York, president of the league, who, in announcing her candidacy for re-election, answered criticisms aimed to discredit her right to that position. In calling attention to opposition to her because of her political principles Mrs. Crosby defended them and admitted that she was a free trader and an avocate of the single tax theory. The announcement created surprise, because it had been understood that Mrs. Crosby would not be a candidate.

GIVEN VOTE OF CONFIDENCE.

Cleveland Iron Workers Do Not Believe Two Men Guilty.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 8.—The local structural iron workers' union met last night to elect officers and passed resolutions expressing confidence in the innocence of Peter Smith and George (Nipper) Anderson, the two Cleveland men convicted in the dynamite trial at Indianapolis, and sentenced to serve four and three years respectively at Leavenworth prison.

No action was taken to arrange for the $70,000 bonds which would have to be put up for the release of the two men pending appeal of the dynamiters' cases. The bond must be secured in this state.

"SUICIDE" SAYS "I'M WELL."

His Fiance With Undertaker Is on Her Way to Chicago.

Oshkosh, Wis., Jan. 8.—Otto Gauger, of this city, reported here to have committed suicide in Chicago, today telephoned: "I am alive and well; will be home this afternoon." Mrs. Ella Luff, Gauger's fiancee, who had received a letter in which Gauger said she would find his body in a Chicago hotel, had left for that city with an undertaker before the telephone message was received. The couple were to have been married next week, and Gauger had bequeathed her all his property. It is believed that Gauger is mentally deranged as the result of injuries suffered in a street car accident.

WOULD CANCEL TOWN'S CHARTER.

Pennsylvania Governor Advocates Retaliatory Measures.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 8.—Governor Tener in his message to the Pennsylvania legislature, which began its biennial session yesterday, urged the revocation of the charter of the borough of Coatesville for its failure to punish any of the persons implicated in the death of "Seach" Walker, who was burned by a mob in August, 1911.

In discussing general legislative matters, Governor Tener recommended that the question of equal suffrage for women be submitted to a vote of the people.

WOULD ANNUL GAS FRANCHISE.

City Attorney of St. Joseph, Mo., Assails Company in Court.

St. Joseph, Mo., Jan. 8.—Complying with a resolution adopted by the city council, City Attorney Norris today filed suit in the circuit court asking that the franchise of the St. Joseph Gas company be annulled. The city contends that the local company forfeited its franchise when it ceased to manufacture gas and began distributing natural gas. The company is now returning to the manufacture of gas, following a shortage of the natural product, and has announced that a rate of $1 a thousand feet would be charged, regardless of the natural gas rate. The city declares this rate is too high.

NEWLYWED MAY FIND GRIEF.

Hartford City Aeronaut Who Elopes Faces Parole Violation Charge.

Hartford City, Ind., Jan. 8.—Jimmy Bedwell, youthful aeronaut of this city, courted a bride and trouble at the same time when he induced Hazel Logan, 18 years old, housekeeper for James Mullin, driver of a fire wagon, to elope with him to Indianapolis, where they were married. Mullin, angered because of the loss of his housekeeper, has filed a charge of intoxication against Bedwell, which, if proven, is likely to send Bedwell back to the Jeffersonville reformatory, from which institution he is a paroled prisoner. Bedwell and his bride are now at Beech Grove.

OFFERS COURT WIFE AS BOND.

Prisoner Tells Judge She Will Go to Jail That He May Be Free.

Marinette, Wis., Jan. 8.—When Antonia Mizhelow, of Loomis, this county, was bound over to the circuit court for trial today on a charge of blackmail he wanted to give his wife as a bond. He said his wife would go to jail and he could then go free. "Black Hand" methods are suspected in the case. Mizhelow and a countryman named Pamosso were arrested on the charge of attacking Mizhelow's wife. The latter and other Italians from Loomis said Mizhelow wanted them to help extort $1,000 from Pamosso as hush money. When Pamosso refused to pay Mizhelow caused his arrest.

South Bend Man Has Strength Left to Call for Aid.

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 8.—Mr. and Mrs. William Gray were overcome by gas from a coal stove and Mr. Gray is still in a serious condition as the result of fumes inhaled yesterday morning while asleep in their home. Only timely assistance of neighbors saved them from death. Mrs. Gray was awakened by the oppressive atmosphere and was just able to rouse her husband before sinking into unconsciousness. Mr. Gray arose and went to the telephone, called a neighbor and then fell to the floor. Mrs. Shock, whom he called, found them on the verge of death when she arrived a few minutes later and summoned medical aid.

Dunkard, While Despondent, Takes His Life in Camden.

Delphi, Ind., Jan. 8.—Levi Cripe, 55 years old, a prominent conservative Dunkard, hanged himself from a rafter of his barn at his home in Camden, eight miles east of this city, yesterday. Telling his wife that he would do the milking, he left the house before breakfast and on his failure to return Mrs. Cripe went to call him, finding his body hanging to a rope in the haymow. He was in good financial circumstances, but had been despondent and morose for several days. Less than half an hour had elapsed from the time he left the house until discovered by his wife, the body being still warm when found.

SEEKS NEW CONSTITUTION.

Former Speaker Veneman Will Consult With Leaders at Capital.

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 8.—Albert J. Veneman, speaker of the Indiana house of representatives in 1911, left for Indianapolis last night and will confer this afternoon with a number of representatives and other men interested in the problem of getting a new constitution for Indiana. The former speaker's interest in a revision of the constitution was aroused even before the effort made two years ago to amend the present document. He said tonight that possibly a plan of action would be outlined at Wednesday's conference that would result in a bill for a constitutional convention to be presented to the new legislature. This is the plan advocated by Judge Lawrence Becker, of Hammond, one of Mr. Veneman's correspondents.

25 CENT "DANDERINE" FOR FALLING HAIR AND DANDRUFF---GROWS HAIR

Don't pay 50 cents for worthless hair tonics—Use old, reliable, harmless "Danderine"—Get results

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast.

A little Danderine tonight now—anytime—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application you will say it was the best investment you ever made. Your hair will immediately take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair now hair growing all over the scalp. Defiance Statesman On Ways and Means

HON. T. T. ANSBERRY.

Washington, Jan. 8. The democratic caucus of the house has elected Representative Ansberry, of Ohio, a member of the committee on ways and means to succeed William Hughes, of New Jersey, who resigned from the house to seek election to the senate. Mr. Ansberry was originally slated for membership on the committee, but a factional fight in the state delegation resulted in shifting the choice from Ohio to New Jersey.

Representative Hammill, of New Jersey, the choice of that delegation, withdrew and seconded Mr. Ansberry.

The caucus approved all the recommendations of the ways and means committee to fill committee vacancies, including those of Flood, of Virginia, to succeed Governor Sulzer as chairman of the foreign affairs committee and Humphreys, of Mississippi, to succeed Flood at the head of the territories committee.

BROXON LIVED HERE.

Local Men Remember Idaho Editor Held in Contempt of Court.

Numerous Fort Wayne people are of the opinion that C. O. Broxon, one of the Boise, Idaho editors, serving a jail sentence for contempt of court, formerly resided in Fort Wayne. While nothing definite concerning his residence here is recalled, it is believed that he remained in Fort Wayne for a short time before going west.

After leaving Fort Wayne it is believed that he located at Pocatello, where he conducted a newspaper for several years. From that place he went to Boise.

Henry W. Winte, formerly engaged in newspaper work in Fort Wayne, now publisher of the Blissfield, Mich., Advance, in communication with local friends, states that after Mr. Broxon located in Boise, he was offered a position as advertising manager of the paper published by the imprisoned editor.

Editor Broxon, with R. S. Sheridan and A. R. Cruzon, are held in contempt of the Idaho supreme court for publishing matter ordered barred. The men are directing the publication of the newspaper from their cells, which are banked with flowers by prominent men in all walks of life.

If your children are subject to attacks of croup, watch for the first symptom, hoarseness. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the child becomes hoarse and the attack may be warded off. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

MOOSE TO CELEBRATE FOUNDING.

Will Hold Second Anniversary Reception on January 21.

The Loyal Order of Moose, of this city, is making elaborate preparations for the celebration of the founding of the lodge on Tuesday, Jan. 21. At the reception will be present most of the supreme officers of the state, who will give addresses concerning the outlook and future plans of the order. A banquet will be given in the evening.

The Moose lodge started here on Jan. 20, 1910, and although a few of the charter members were strongly backed by the national organization there was nothing ahead of them except daylight, and a determination to win out. Their success can now be measured by the fact that in two short years the membership has mounted to 1,400, and the cash assets, free from liabilities, show $1,800. When the fiscal year ends on March 31, it is expected that the lodge will have 1,500 members and efforts are being made to increase it to that figure.

Mrs. A. R. Tabor, of Crider, Mo., had been troubled with sick headache for about five years, when she began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. She has taken two bottles of them and they have cured her. Sick headache is caused by a disordered stomach for which these tablets are especially intended. Try them, get well and stay well. Sold by all dealers.—Adv.

GLAD RAGS

"MAKES THE AUTOMOBILE SHINE LIKE NEW"

25c Glad Rag adds dollars to the looks of the car. An automobile with tarnished metal work is like a man who doesn't have his shoes shined—it shows deterioration.

Just a rub or two with Glad Rags, then a polish with a soft, dry cloth, and the metal is crystal bright.

No more necessity for investing a dollar or more in a can of metal polish with its risk of explosion and fire.

A 25c Glad Rag does more polishing and does it better for it gives a higher lustre and a polish that turns off dampness and rain—so that it lasts longer.

Will not scratch the varnish surfaces as do powder polishes—or "eat" them as do metal polishes—will not harm hands or clothing.

Glad Rags are great for the automobilist—for the lamps, for the rods and levers, horn—every shining metal part. 10c and 25c—in individual cartons.
